CHAMP CLARK RIPS UP THE PRESIDENT

In Reply to Taft's Hamilton Speech He Charges Him With Ingratitude and Display of Ill Temper.

DEFENDS DEMOCRATIC TARIFF BILLS

Quincy, Ills., Aug. 29.—Champ Clark, speaker of the national house of representatives before leaving here early today replied emphatically to President Taft's speech delivered at Hamilton, Mass., last Saturday morning. In an interview the speaker accused the president of not stating facts. He said he did not reply for the insurgents who "no doubt will take up the cudgels in their own behalf."

He declared among other things that if the tariff board is to be used as a pretext for delaying tariff revision downward, the democrats will cut off its supplies.

"President Taft's speech at Hamilton last Saturday," said Speaker Clark, "can only be described as remarkable, when the history of the recent past is taken into consideration. He essayed the rather large stunt of running amuck on both the democrat and the insurgent republicans in congress singling out Mr. Chairman Underwood and myself particularly as democractic targets.

"I accept his onslaught as a badge of honor.

President in Bad Temper.

"The president and I are personal friends. He has done me many kindnesses and I have tried to repay them so far as opportunity has served. He is as a rule a most amiable gentleman, but at the time he seems to have been in a bad temper because he sees defeat staring him in the face. I would say nothing unkind about him but I cannot and will not permit his personal strictures and his bald misstatement of historical facts to go unchallenged.

"My observation and experience prove to my mind that Senator La-

SEEK TO AID AGREEMENT IN TANGLE WITH PENNSYLVANIA

Meeting of Business Men at Commercial Club to Discuss Track Elevation and Depot Situation.

In the hope of arriving at an understanding by which they might tender their good offices in an effort to bridge over the present chasm between the city and the Pennsylvania company in the track elevation and depot situation, a score or more of Fort Wayne business men were called into a conference at the Commercial club at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Letters of invitation to the meeting bore the signature of C. H. Worden, and set forth the fear that the existing controversy is in danger of delaying the building of the new passenger station for several years. The reference is plainly to the attitude of the administration in proceeding to enforce an elevation of the tracks at Clinton street, formal protest against which was promptly filed by the Pennsylvania company.

The call for the meeting gives the city government due credit for its accomplishment in the way of agreements for track elevation, but asserts that many citizens feel that it will be particularly unfortunate if the contention results in the indefinite postponement of the new station plans by the Pennsylvania company. The purpose of the conference is to get the views of the business men regarding the situation, and the belief is confidently expressed that both the board of public works and the city council will welcome advice that may lead to an amicable adjustment of existing differences.

While the opening of Clinton street has been strongly urged in many quarters, there is also an element which believes it unwise to insist upon the opening at this point if it will jeopardize other improvements that are regarded as more vital.

DR. G. B. M'GOOGAN, U. S. CONSUL, PASSES AWAY AT MOBILE, ALABAMA

Telegrams received in Fort Wayne at noon today announce the death of Dr. George B. McGoogan, formerly of this city and for several years in the United States consular service, which occurred this morning at Mobile, Ala.

The messages were from Mrs. McGoogan and gave no details beyond the distressing news of her husband's death. William H. Ward, jr., secretary of Phoenix lodge, No. 101, Knights of Pythias, of which Dr. McGoogan was a member, received a letter a few days ago, however, from Mrs. McGoogan. It was written at sea, and stated that her husband was very ill and that they were hurrying with the patient to Mobile to place him in a hospital there. The steamer was due to reach Mobile on Saturday.

It was not generally known locally that Dr. McGoogan was in Mobile and news of his death will be a painful shock to friends here, for they were wholly unprepared for it, and Dr. McGoogan was widely known and very popular in Fort Wayne and over Northeastern Indiana. He had been for several years United States consul at Progreso, Yucatan, and but two weeks ago President Taft advanced him to the consulate at Georgetown, Guiana. Dr. McGoogan, however, was evidently too ill to proceed to his new post.

Dr. McGoogan was about 45 years of age. He was born and reared in Northern Indiana, taught school in his earlier days and then took up the study of medicine, graduating from the old Fort Wayne Medical college. He practiced medicine for some years at Arcola, this county, but abandoned medicine for the government service, first taking a position in the weather bureau at Philadelphia. This work was distasteful to him and after a few months he resigned his position, subsequently securing an appointment as deputy collector of internal revenue with headquarters in this city. With a view of entering the consular service of the government Dr. McGoogan took up the study of Spanish while in Fort Wayne, and early in 1906 he secured an appointment as consular agent at LaPaz, in Lower California, Mexico. After two or three years here he was transferred to Progreso and made United States consul. This promotion was followed by the later advance to Georgetown, which he did not survive to fill.

BOARD ADOPTS RESOLUTIONS FOR TAYLOR AND BROADWAY

Wabash Will Not Object but Work Will Not be Taken Up for a Couple of Years.

Resolutions for grade separation at Broadway and Taylor streets have been formlly adopted by the board of public works and notice will be sent to the Wabash Railroad company in compliance with the law and the date for hearing will be set in a short time.

This step was taken in order to facilitate the confirmation by the city council of the contract recently made with the company for the vacation of Hoagland avenue and Kansas street, the relocation of Grand street and opening the latter thoroughfare from Kansas street to Hoagland.

Officials of the Wabash company are extremely anxious to begin work on the new freight house and this can not be undertaken until the city council has ratified the agreement made by the board of public works and in addition to the adoption of these two resolutions plans have been adopted for the vacation of the streets involved.

Since the start of the scheme of grade separation the Wabash company has been handicapped in handling its freight business and it is anxious to build its new terminals just as soon as possible and it will file its consent to the opening of Grand street so that there will be nothing to prevent action on the contract at the first meeting in September of the city council.

Board Will Ask Changes.

At tonight's meeting of the board of public safety it is likely that the council will be asked to make some changes in the ordinance governing safety appliances in theaters and public halls. At this time it includes houses and halls with seating capacity of 300 or more and only applies to one or two picture shows.

This action will be taken at the instance of Assistant Fire Chief George Jasper, who thinks that an amendment ought to be tacked on so that amusement places with seating capacity of fifty or more will be included. He will also suggest that automatic seats be used so that they will rise when the weight of the occupant is removed.

This latter clause would entail an expense that the moving picture show owners might object to but they are not opposed to any ordinance that will provide for the safety of their patrons and most of them say they are now fully equipped in this respect.

Exits are properly designated by red lights and all of the shows in the city are located on the ground floor and in only one is there a gallery or balcony. This is at the Lyric which is a modern building and considered fire proof.

IMMUNE TO DEADLY CURRENT.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 29.—Frederick Overpeck, a lineman for the Terre Haute, Indianapolis and Eastern Traction company, hung for ten minutes from a pole with 2,200 volts of electricity going through his body this morning and lived. Overpeck was repairing high tension wires when he came in contact with a live wire. He fell, but his safety belt, suspended him in the air with the wire touching him. He grasped the wire, was unable to let go and one finger was burned off before the power was shut off and he was let down.

THE LITTLE WHITE HEARSE IS BUSY

FAMILY WIPED OUT

Canonsburg, Pa., Aug. 29.—In the gloom of a rainy day, the first of the funerals of the victims of Saturday night's picture show horror took place here this morning and before night fall seventeen of the twenty-six unfortunates will have been buried.

The first funeral procession wound its way through the streets at 6 o'clock when the hearse containing the body of George Kay, the thirteen year old son of Prof. R. H. Kay, director of music in the public schools, left the family home.

At 9 o'clock the deep tones bell on St. Patrick's Catholic church announced the arrival there of the body of little Margaret Gibbs.

Throngs stood silently in the streets as the funeral passed. The scene was repeated almost every hour until the last victim had been buried. Graves had been prepared during yesterday and last night the grave diggers working in a blinding rain.

ENTIRE FAMILY WIPED OUT.

East Liverpool, O., Aug. 29.—With the death of Mrs. Neill Laird and her daughter Anna in the Canonsburg picture show panic, the entire family was wiped out after a series of tragedies. Three years ago the father was drowned in the reservoir of the water works here and a year later two children burned to death in the fire which destroyed the family home. Mrs. Laird with the remaining daughter then went to Canonsburg where they were employed in a pottery until the disaster which ended their lives

FORT WAYNE NEWSBOYS IN ANNUAL OUTING AT PARK

Vociferously declaring that The Sentinel is "all right," more than half a hundred Fort Wayne newsboys, marched away after a call upon the newspaper early today to board a chartered car for Robison park. It is the eighth annual outing of the newsboys who sell papers upon the streets of Fort Wayne, and all day long they have been making merry in a lively program that came near establishing a record for events of its kind.

The outing is the annual offering of Charles A. Phelps, long president of the Newsboys' union, who, though now a thriving business man, has never permitted himself to forget the days when he, too, was hustling upon the streets as a retail vender of newspapers. Mr. Phelps provided the special car and also saw to it that other refreshments were served at the park to supplement the box lunches carried by the boys to tide them over the noonday hour. Moreover, Mr. Phelps proudly marched at the head of the column of newsboys.

There was no discounting the enthusiasm with which the youngsters entered into the spirit of the occasion. On the march to the car the column swung into Wayne street and halted in front of The Sentinel building, where the lads honored this newspaper with vociferous cheers and hurriedly lined up in front of the office to be photographed. They carried, in addition to their lunches, baseball paraphernalia and other equipment for the day's pleasures, and their march down Calhoun street to the transfer corner was a continuous ovation. The special car left for the park at 9:30 o'clock, and the lusty youngsters have been busy every moment of the day.

NINETY THOUSAND MEN ARE DROPPED

Railroads Retrench to the Extent of $94,000,000 in Short Time.

SAY IT IS NECESSARY

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Following a plan for retrenchment railroads of the country in the past year have dismissed 81,870 men, effecting a net annual saving in operating expenses of $94,000,000, according to a report made public today.

This economy has been adopted to 66 per cent. of all the roads and is rapidly spreading to remaining lines.

The decrease in expense and maintenance is said to be the result of action of the interstate commerce commission, which refused to allow the roads to put into effect a general increase of freigh rates. The largest reduction in the forces are found among the track men, shopmen and miscellaneous employes.

The report containing these figures, it is said, has an important bearing on the widespread unrest existing in the ranks of Harriman lines shopmen.

That the dispute with the shopmen on the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Illinois Central and other lines may extend to other railway systems was indicated today by the report that men employed by the Chicago & Northwestern road have given notice that with the expiration of the present wage agreement next month, an increase of wages will be demanded.

After a day of secret conferences the executive board of Illinois Central federated workmen representing nine trades has decided to leave the question of calling a strike to the international presidents of the different unions. This action is taken by some to mean a step in the direction of a peaceful settlement of the dispute.

A letter has been forwarded to Vice President Park and General Manager Foley of the Illinois Central road, asking that a conference with the union men be arranged to discuss the disputed points.

MANY LOST KEYS.

In the past year the employes of the People's Store have picked up several scores of door keys on the floors of the big establishment. The lost keys have been saved and are now on exhibition in one of the store's windows and perhaps some of the owners can locate their missing property. The keys displayed in the window vary from the little Yale lock openers to the big brass contrivances only used in locking old school houses and out of date residences.

TO GO IN CAMP FOR A DAY.

Summit Encampment, No. 18, I. O. O. F., will pitch tent and go into camp for a day one mile north of Robison park Sunday, September 10. The trip will be trolley car as far as the park and thence to the camping grounds by foot.

GET THROUGH WITH GEIDEL.

New York, Aug. 29.—Paul Geidel, the bell boy, accused of murdering William H. Jackson, will testify no further in his fight for life. Contrary to general expectations, the prosecution announced today that it had no more questions to put to the defendant. Paul's counsel surprised at the change of plan, called two of the bell boys' acquaintances employed by the hotel where the murder was committed.

WILL INITIATE A CLASS.

Edwards camp, No. 3127, Modern Woodmen of America, at its hall this evening will initiate fifteen applicants, the degree work being performed by charter members of the camp, which is sixteen years old. Roll call will also be a feature of the meeting.

EMBALMED IN ICE.

Berne, Switzerland, Aug 29.—Tourists while crossing the Loetschen glacier yesterday saw deep down in the clear ice the faces of two dead men. Guides accompanying the party chipped out with their ice axes the frozen bodies of the men and brought them to the surface. The bodies have not yet been identified, but they probably are these of two London tourists named Bambocke and Coin, who disappeared fourteen years ago.

PAUL BEATTIE HOLDS TO STORY

Cross Fire Fails to Shake His Testimony as to Confession.

ENDS HIS TESTIMONY

Chesterfield Court, Va., Aug. 29.—Paul D. Beattie, cousin of Henry Clay Beattie, jr., indicted for wife murder, remained unmoved today under a volley of questions from counsel for the defense, who attempted to shake the witnesses' story of yesterday in which he introduced an alleged confession to him by the prisoner concerning that tragedy.

Yesterday Paul Beattie had testified that twenty-four hours after the murder Henry Clay Beattie, jr., had to him confessed the murder of his wife. His testimony was:

"On Thursday night at his house, I said, 'Henry, this thing looks mighty black.' He said, 'I wish to God I had not done it. I would not have done the thing for a million dollars. I'd like to know how those detectives found out there was a number six shot in that gun.'"

"'I want you to stick by me,' Henry Clay Beattie, jr., said to me," Paul Beattie continued, "but I told him I would tell the detectives all I knew about it."

"I hated to testify against my own kin," he said, "but my duty to my wife, my child and my own town forced me to do it.

Try to Break Down Story.

Practically the entire cross-examination by counsel for the defense was concentrated on the effort to show that Paul Beattie recited an entirely different story yesterday from the one which he related at the coroner's inquest and that he had on the first occasion suppressed a part of his knowledge of the case.

The witness maintained that this was due to his nervous collapse at the coroner's inquest and he was excused without changing his startling testimony of yesterday.

John Sandifer, an intimate friend of the prisoner for several years, who accompanied the latter to Harry M. Smith's home two nights after the murder, followed Paul Beattie on the witness stand for the prosecution.

Sandifer Jolts the State.

He was expected to confirm the testimony that Henry C. Beattie, jr., telephoned that night to Paul to ask the latter to carry a message to Beulah Binford. He did not do so and practically became a witness for the defense.

Harry M. Smith, jr., counsel for the defense, took the witness on direct examination and asked him concerning the character of Henry C. Beattie, jr. The prosecution objected that the kind of testimony could only be in connection with testimony of the prisoner himself. Attorney Smith announced that it was intended to put the accused on the stand.

Sandifer testified that the relations of Henry C. Beattie, jr., with his wife were pleasant so far as he knew. He said he had visited Henry and members of his family since the murder and had expressed his sympathy for the accused.

His testimony was a surprise to the prosecution who summoned him as its witness.

Prisoner Will Go On Stand.

Henry Clay Beattie is sure to go on the stand in his own defense. This statement was made by Harry M. Smith, the lawyer for the defense, outside the court room today.

"It is much better, isn't it," said Mr. Smith, "for a man to give with his own lips an explanation of a thing which half a dozen other people have been testifying about? Every one has observed Henry Clay Beattie, jr., and noticed that he is the kind of a man to want to reply to the many conversations alleged to have been had with him by Paul Beattie and others."

Mr. Smith characterized Paul Beattie's testimony of yesterday as "overdone," declaring that it was a plain case of the witness "lying to save his shirt," as it was axiomatic that if Henry Clay Beattie, jr., were guilty Paul was just as much so.

It had not been determined as yet, added Mr. Smith, when the prisoner would testify.

Court re-convened at 10:30 o'clock and Paul Beattie immediately resumed the witness chair for cross-examination by the defense.

Paul was chewing gum and appeared well composed.

"Mr. Beattie," began Mr. Smith, "did you work the Wednesday following the murder?"

"I think I did."

"When did you hear about the murder?"

A Pointed Question.

"You are sure you didn't hear about it before it happened?"

"No."

"Did you meet a Mr. Booth on the bridge where you worked as a watchman?"

"Don't know the man."

"Did you meet anybody on the bridge the day following and talk with him about the murder?"

"No, I don't remember. Somebody brought me the papers and I read of the murder."

"This man, Mr. E. W. Booth that I have described, I understand discussed the murder with you and you said you did not think envy committed the crime, because he always was devoted to his wife. Did you make this statement to him or any one else?"

"No."

"You say you bought the gun on Saturday?"

"Yes."

"Did Henry say anything about keeping the matter of the gun secret that day?"

"No, not until after the murder."

Told No One of Gun Episode.

"You didn't tell a living soul about the gun, though under no pledge of secrecy, from Saturday till Thursday night?"

"No, I did not tell any one until then."

"Then you have made two conflicting statements in your previous testimony, as you said you told your wife Wednesday night and also Thursday."

"I never told her till Thursday night."

"Weren't you in a right bad fix when Detective McMahon found out that you bought the gun?"

"Sure, I was in a right bad fix."

Mr. Smith directed a fusillade of questions against Paul pointing to varying statements in his testimony before the coroner's inquest, but the witness maintained that he was in poor mental condition when he testified there.

"You say that Henry Clay Beattie, jr., called you on the phone and asked you to buy the gun?"

"Yes."

"Had Henry Clay Beattie, jr., ever called you on the phone since you were married; had he ever since then visited you socially?"

"No. But he used to phone me before I was married."

Stumped by a Word.

"When you were on the stand at the inquest was it solicitude for Henry or Paul that made you testify as you did?"

"I don't know what solicitude means. I never had much schooling, Mr. Smith. What does it mean?"

"Do you know what 'solicitous' means?"

"No."

"Well, we'll leave it," said Mr. Smith; "but did you say anything at the coroner's inquest about going to McAvoy's and taking a drink. I want to test your memory."

"I don't remember whether I said it or not. I was in a bad nervous state," reiterated the witness.

Still Sorry to Say It.

Near the close of Paul Beattie's cross-examination, counsel for defense asked:

"You went out on the side porch of Henry's home on Thursday night after the murder?"

"I did."

"He never asked you before Thursday night to 'stick by him?'"

"He had no reason to because he didn't tell me until Thursday that he did it."

"But you said you would not stick by him and would tell all, yet you did not tell all to the coroner's inquest?"

"I hated to tell against my own flesh and blood and I hate it now."

As the witness uttered this remark he looked squarely at counsel for the defense and at the prisoner.

"When Henry called you on the phone and asked if you had been summoned by the coroner he chuckled?"

"Yes, he laughed 'ha, ha, ha.'"

Cross-examination ended at 11:50 and Prosecutor Wendenburg took the witness on re-direct examination. The prosecutor had the witness tell of his illness at the time of the inquest and how after his first collapse he was brought back to the witness stand from a hospital.

Paul Beattie was excused at 12:05 o'clock and Judge Watson ordered him detained at Chesterfield jail. No reason was given by the court for changing the place of Paul Beattie's imprisonment.

Juror Fetterolf was taken ill during recess and a physician was sent for, delaying the convening of the court.

At 2:25 p. m. it was announced that the juror had recovered, having been temporarily affected by the heat.

The court reconvened at 2:30 o'clock.

EASTERN EDUCATORS MAKE HIT AT COUNTY INSTITUTE

Teachers Receive Valuable Instructions from Drs. Becht and Albert—Professor Knocks Weed.

Drs. Charles H. Albert and J. George Becht, the two Pennsylvania educators, are becoming more popular with the Allen county teachers as the institute progresses. These two able talkers made a pronounced hit at the morning and afternoon sessions in the High School assembly room today, and the sound of a pin drop could have been heard across the big auditorium when the addresses were being delivered.

The second day's meeting of the teachers' institute started promptly at 9 o'clock. After devotional exercises and a short musical program Dr. Albert took the platform and delivered a very interesting address on the "Underlying Principles of Teaching." Dr. Albert's talk was along the same lines as his address of yesterday morning, but he brought out a considerable number of new thoughts that were eagerly absorbed by the local instructors. The speaker explained the four tests for teaching, namely: how to know when the pupil knows; how to know when the pupil does not know; how to know that the pupil knows you know; and how to know that the pupils knows you do not know. He dropped back to his subject of yesterday, and said that no education can give a human one new faculty, explaining that the child is born with power of mind. "Activity, is what makes the real man," said Dr. Albert. "Life comes by a struggle." In the course of his talk, the speaker praised the work carried on under the directions of Booker T. Washington at Tuskogee, and in conclusion he took several hard raps at the popular weed, tobacco. Dr. Albert said that if he were a trustee he would not tolerate a tobacco using teacher for one single day.

Dr. Becht spoke for an hour on the "Rational Treatment of Children." He divided his address into five different subjects and dealt with each subject in a thorough manner. The learned man from the east told of the new interest in childhood recently taken by the teachers of the land, and he explained how the reform would work great wonders with the coming generations. The real meaning of infancy was another topic dwelt upon by Dr. Becht; some very interesting thoughts being introduced along these lines. The speaker is a firm advocate of much play, and believes that the right kind of play is more beneficial than work or study. The wonder power of the child, and the critical period of adolescence were two interesting subjects about which the doctor went into details.

Both of the lecturers specialized in their afternoon addresses. Dr. Becht used as the subject for his talk, "Thinking in History." This address consisted in illustrating the general subject of the teaching as expressed by a Herboytlan teacher in a German school. Dr. Albert's talk pertained to "Unity in Geography." Dr. Albert showed how all sciences were children of geography. He told of the wonderful importance of the subject of geography and explained how the studies of geology, astronomy, mineralogy, botany, zoology and physiology depended upon it.

The afternoon's session adjourned at the usual time, 4 o'clock, after which many school teachers remained in the auditorium to discuss different phases of the work with the two lecturers.

BIG ATTRACTION FOR GREAT FAIR

SOME OTHER SHOWS

Gaumer's "Eight In One," a collection of trained and freak animals, which will be one of the feature attractions at the Fort Wayne fair, September 12 to 16, is declared to be one of the best companies of the kind on the road and those of the fair association officers who have witnessed a performance in other cities are confident that it will give general satisfaction here.

The electric fountain, another of the twenty-seven shows that have contracted for space along the "Pike," is the same fire and water spectacle which many Fort Wayne people saw at the world's fair in St. Louis in 1904. The Hatch water circus, the leading show that will be here, is now playing the state fairs in the west and will come here directly from the Minnesota state fair at St. Paul.

Private Detective Robert Dickson has been engaged by the fair association to act as chief of the private police force at the grounds this year. He has been empowered to employ as many men as he finds necessary, as it is the desire of the association to have the park well patroled and maintain strictest order at all times.

HOW ONE CAN SAVE.

This is one occupation, at least, at which one can earn one's bread and salt while studying for a profession that gives a good living on graduation.

I have often spoken of household service in many of its forms, and while some object to this through foolish prejudice, the fact remains that any girl who will work at it conscientiously can earn enough money in addition to having her board and lodging, to save for any kind of training that she may wish to take for a few years.

These dollars count. The girls who have to pay for their lodging while getting low wages, are battling against impossible odds. Look the question in the face. Can you pay for the training you wish to take in a great city? Have you experience enough to command a living wage so that health and courage will not fail in the struggle? If you have not, and you do not care to enter hospital training or some household work that gives food and lodging, the only thing to do is to keep away from the lure of the bustling city.—Housekeeper.

ALL HOPE IS AT LAST GIVEN UP

Eye Witness of Adams-Jennison Drowning Tells Story—Bodies May Never Be Recovered.

Columbia City, Ind., Aug. 29.—At last the friends and relatives of the late Donald C. Adams, of this city, who met death by drowning in the Frazure river, British Columbia, have given up all hopes for the untruthfulness of the account of the accident. The drowning occurred several weeks ago, and as there was no detailed account of the terrible affair sent to this city, the relatives, especially the mother of the drowned man, held out hopes that there was a mistake and that the young man would be located alive.

Charles Adams, an uncle of the deceased, went to British Columbia and yesterday J. W. Adams, the father, received a letter telling about the accident. The awful calamity was witnessed by a white trader's wife and an Indian, according to the letter received. Adams in company with Albert Jennison, of Crawfordsville, Indiana, started down the Frazure river in a sixteen foot canoe. The young men were warned not to attempt the journey as the swift current of the mountain stream was very dangerous. The voyagers had gone scarcely a mile when the swift current overturned their craft and threw them into the water. According to the witnesses of the catastrophe the young men struggled in the water only a few minutes before they sank.

As yet the bodies of the unfortunate victims have not been recovered, and the chances are that the remains never will come to the surface as the cold water of the river does not give up its victims. The parents of the young man have offered a reward for the discovery of the body.

ACCIDENT DELAYS TRAIN.

Passenger Train Laid Up While Doctors Dresses Mailman's Wounds.

Portland, Ind., Aug. 29.—The westbound Lake Erie and Western train, due to leave Portland at 11:11 o'clock, was delayed twenty-five minutes at the local station yesterday morning while Dr. J. T. Dickes, the company's local surgeon, dressed the painful, though not serious injuries sustained by Mail Clerk H. F. Evans when a mail pouch broke a glass guard at Victoria, Ohio, and showered him with flying glass. The accident happened thirteen miles east of here as the train was passing through the little town of Victoria, when Mail Clerk Evans swung out his catcher crane and took on a pouch of mail. The sack swung in some unusual manner and broke the glass guard that projects from the side of the train through which the mail men look as they approach the sack of mail they plan taking aboard. The glass completely showered Evans and cut a "V" shaped gash in the center of his forehead, the point of the "V" ending just above his nose and between the eyes. The wound bled profusely all the way to Portland.

County Superintendent W. A. Beane is looking forward to a big institute and a large delegation of the teachers will be present.

FALL MAY PROVE FATAL.

Old Soldier Victim of Many Tumbles—Last One Serious.

Waterloo, Ind., Aug. 29.—It has been almost proverbial that Samuel Rickel, of this place must have a fall before completing a job of carpenter work. He has had many falls, but none of them so serious as the one just before the hour of quitting yesterday noon. He was working on the second story of Claud Meyer's house. In starting to go down, he did not get a foothold upon the ladder and fell to the cement porch seven or eight feet below, striking on his head and shoulders.

The injured man was picked up unconscious and at last reports was still in that condition. His injuries are serious and may prove fatal. He is about seventy years of age and somewhat crippled from the many previous injuries he has received by falls when following his occupation, that of a carpenter. He is an old soldier.

WOULD RETAIN THE TAX LEVIES

North Side Citizens Do Not Want the Improvement Funds Curtailed.

DOING LIVELY WORK

The North Side Civic Improvement association, at a meeting held Monday evening at the Bloomingdale school, went squarely on record for the retention of not only the river improvement tax levy for the coming year, but also the present levy for the extension and improvement of the municipal lighting system. Resolutions to this effect were adopted by an overwhelming vote.

The Bloomingdale committee to secure an opened street beneath the Nickel Plate railroad tracks reported St. Mary's avenue as its preference and stated that the matter had been taken up with Superintendent S. K. Blair, of the Nickel Plate. Osage street, which had at one time been under consideration by both Bloomingdale and Nebraska, was held by the north side residents to be too far west to give the best service.

Committees All Busy.

Reports indicated that the various committees of the north side association are busily at work on various improvement details. Fred L. Barthold presented a drawing showing the proposed park entrance to Bloomingdale, as well as the completed park system for the north side, and it was stated that one citizen was willing to give $400 toward parking at Wells and Cass streets, provided the entire Bloomingdale park proposition is carried out.

Chairman David Felger and his committee in charge of the effort to open Fourth street, stated that the project would be taken up with the board of public works shortly, and Chairman Joseph M. Haley reported an excellent prospect for securing a new bridge at Wells street as soon as the new east side bridge over the Maumee is completed. There was opposition to a double street car track upon the present bridge unless it is widened.

Henry Franke, jr., John Schaefer, James Erwin and Herman Witte were added to Chairman A. K. Fahlsing's committee to secure a new bridge at Barthold street, and progress was reported in this work. The resolution favoring the retention of the municipal lighting levy came from the committee of which Edward F. Schoch is chairman, which declared its belief that the city should not stop until it has a light at each street intersection.

Messrs. Charles Motter, Henry Harp and Charles Beck were appointed by President Kelly to call on the board of public works, asking that body to grade Fourth street from Franklin avenue to the G. R. & I. railroad tracks.

Martin, will officiate at these services including the one to be held in the afternoon at 4 o'clock for the young people. There will be no evening service so that those who wish may attend the farewell services at the U. B. church.

The Jones family reunion will be held on Sept. 14, at the home of Jasper Jones in Jackson township. The invitations sent out are very unique being photographs of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jones, who first settled in this country, and of the log cabin which was their first home.

Joseph Martin, who has been working in Fort Wayne, met with quite a serious accident when he fell from a scaffold Saturday and broke one of his limbs.

The Monroeville team scored again in the game at New Haven last Sunday, 2 to 1, Steinman striking out thirteen. On Labor day the Fort Wayne Magnolias will play the locals at this place to decide which is the better team—each team having won a game earlier in the season. There is no game scheduled for next Sunday as yet.

CHILDREN'S ILLS IN SUMMER

The hardest period of a child's life is during the heated term. It is then that the little men and women become so subject to stomach and bowel troubles. With one it manifests itself in the form of obstinate constipation, with another the very reverse—diarrhea. One is as bad and as dangerous as the other. Constipation makes the child lose appetite and sleep, makes it languid and sickly-looking. Diarrhea weakens it and destroys appetite and energy. Piles, pimples, eruptions, itch, worms, etc., follow in the train until many a mother feels that her child is indeed very ill. But these are all troubles that can be easily cured. The child needs a few doses of a remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the grand laxative and tonic. Parents can make no possible mistake by giving it Syrup Pepsin, as the chances are always in favor of the child needing a laxative. It is sold in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00, and any druggist can supply you. It cannot be mentioned too strongly that parents should look closely after the welfare of the children during the hot months. GRANDMOTHERS PRESERVED COLOR OF THEIR HAIR WITH GARDEN SAGE

Druggists everywhere comment on the fact that they are selling large quantities of sage for making old-fashioned "sage tea," such as was used by our grandmothers for promoting the growth of their hair, making it fluffy and beautiful and restoring its natural color.

The demand for this well-known herb for this purpose has been so great that one manufacturer has taken advantage of the fact and has placed on the market an ideal "sage tea," containing sulphur, a valuable remedy for dandruff and scalp rashes and irritations, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

CONSULT THE PEOPLE.

Let it be borne in mind that the general scheme of better things in Fort Wayne must incude a new garbage plant, a street repair plant, money to carry on the city's part in paving the ends of thoroughfares connecting with main traveled country roads and the repair of the sewer system.

These things are not generally contemplated in the view of those who hear the discussions of the great scheme of improvements now in design for Fort Wayne, but they are not only an essential, but a prerequisite part of it. The money to do these things must be forthcoming from some source and the city's only recourse is to increase the tax levy or the city debt, and perhaps both. If the larger and more splendid plan is to be carried forward with all its detail of river improvements, park expansion, playground development and a sewerage extension adequate to the needs of what this city will be within a decade or two, then it is just as well to take in mind that something decisive as well as broad must be resolved upon in the matter of augmented revenues.

Let these matters be presented to the people frankly and generally. Let the people know what will be required of them in the assumption of these burdens and what is proposed to give them back for their money. Fort Wayne is progressive and her people are prosperous. They will not demur to the doing of what ought to be done. They will approve the designs for making Fort Wayne an example of civic progress and civic pride. But we believe they should be consulted in the utmost candor.

More than kindly mention of Hon. Charles A. Bookwalter persists in Indianapolis and elsewhere. For some time there has been serious discussion of him as a republican gubernatorial candidate, but up to the hour of going to press with this the distinguished and able silver-tongued and silver-haired ex-mayor of the Hoosier capital has refused to be flirted with. Colonel Bookwalter is not afraid of the gubernatorial office, but it is believed, though he says nothing for publication, that he would prefer the solicitous attention of the politicians at a time and in a season when there is little less of a forlorn hope to be led in the charge. Colonel Bookwalter, however, would make a powerful fine candidate. He is strong, popular, has tested and admitted abilities, is not enough of a factionalist to incur the displeasure of any crowd and he is a superb campaigner. But as we were saying somewhere back in these lines, the colonel doubtless would prefer to start for the high chair in the state house with something less of a handicap than will be carried next year by the man who heads the republican ticket in Indiana.

The case of the Binford girl who figures in the Beattie trial is common enough and no doubt can be duplicated in thousands of instances, but it is made conspicuous by her relations with the defendant in a murder sensation. At thirteen an admitted wanton, at seventeen she is celebrated as the "woman in the case" of a peculiarly atrocious and dramatic crime. She is said to be pretty and as wicked as a devil—the sort of woman to "lure men's souls to the paths of sin with the light of her wanton eyes." In the case of young Beattie she had plastic material out of which to make a completely abandoned human creature, and while the work is not hers alone, she will gain most credit for it. She is no more fit for freedom than her paramour and it will be a sad miscarriage of justice if she is to go free to continue her life of shame and ruination, though what the law can do with her is not much.

A Washington woman whose millionaire husband has become a mental incapable is praying the court to increase her monthly allowance for support from $1,000 to something like two and one-half times that sum. She schedules her necessities and in the itemized account appear her estimates for various necessities—as for instance, $300 per month for dresses, $25 for medical attendance, $25 for cleaning of her clothes other than laundry work, $50 for champagne, and so on, including $10 for charity and $15 for the church. The dresses and champagne and so forth appear reasonable enough, but why such extravagant munificence to the church, and why such demoralizing bounty to the poor? The woman needs the supervisory authority of a court.

As pertaining to a gentler and more humane sport than the manly art of which Mr. J. Johnson and Mr. A. Wolgast are at present the most conspicuous and successful exponents, it is interesting to note that Mr. Gotch has invented a new hold for employment upon Mr. Hackenschmidt when he meets that foreign gentleman in their forthcoming wrestling match for the championship of the world and ever so many thousands of dollars, and that with this new hold Mr. Gotch will have it in his power by the exertion of a few pounds pressure on the leg of Mr. Hackenschmidt to make his adversary a cripple for life. Public knowledge of this should not only make for improved business at the gate, but should spur the inventive genius of football players to higher achievements.

Innocent blood innocently shed is the latest sensation from the rolling mills district. It has caused altogether more excited comment than if it had been the kind of blood-letting that district of the city periodically comes to the front with. It appears tha it was not a brawl, that the men connected with the tragic incident were at the time sober and that nothing was farther from the intent and purpose of the man who held the pistol than to harm anybody. The "didn't know it was loaded" incident is dreadfully common, almost uniformly fatal and in general attracts little attention, but such an episode in the rolling mills region is unique and sensational. Meanwhile, there was the gun, just cleaned, polished and oiled, and ready for something or other, though evidently not for the consequences which unhappily ensued. There are plenty of guns and knives in the rolling mills district, but their intervention in human life is seldom accidental.

It is said the railroads are preparing to inaugurate a wage-cutting campaign, and there are signs of it on some systems of the south, southwest and west. Only a short time ago an almost general railway strike in the country was averted by increase of wages. To take away what then was granted and perhaps more will be pretty apt to reduce the situation to the same threat of trouble from which the land not long ago felt greatly relieved to have escaped.

It is going to take President Taft six weeks to tell the country why the Canadian reciprocity bill is a fine thing and why the other tariff measures were so bad. He could probably do it in less than that, but it must be remembered that he has been confined to Washington by two very long extra sessions of congress during the two and a half years of his administration and must therefore go some to get up his batting average.

Upton Sinclair has filed his threatened suit for divorce and the trial of it ought to go far to determine whether the ethics and usages of the Arden colony embrace anything to prove that the complaining party really has any cause for complaint.

Fort Wayne can considerably increase her street-cleaning fund without fear of overdoing it. That is one respect in which there is perennial shortcoming in this city, and the streets generally show it.

Senator LaFollette may never be a republican president, but he is going to write the record of one right pretty little fighter.

TARIFF REVISION SENTIMENT.

(Pittsburg Post.)

An evidence that the growing demand of the people for tariff reform no longer can pass unheeded is shown by the announced purpose of the republicans, as well as the insurgent element in congress, to take up the matter at the coming regular session. This is a shrewd scheme of cunning politicians "to get under cover" by attempting to ride on the rising tide of democratic reform. They realize that the tariff is the issue, and that if they do not take a bold stand they will reap the condemnation of the country. Fortunately, however, there is no danger of the republican party being able "to steal democratic thunder." The people of this country already have lost confidence in the republican organization and are not disposed to accept as sincere any promises it may make as to revision of the tariff. They know that any movement in that direction would be merely throwing dust in the eyes of the public.

The country looks to the democratic party and its representatives in congress as the factor that can be depended on in bringing about this great and crying reform. No matter what the report of the tariff board may be it will not lessen public confidence in the ability of the democratic party to handle a subject that it understands probably as well as the body of so-called experts, which has gathered a grist of statistics that contain little with which the democratic statesmen are not already familiar. Of course this data will be seized upon by the republicans in their efforts at pacifying an impatient public, but the latter is in no humor to take seriously any proposition that the party of high tariff and trust protection may submit as a pretense for revision.

The insurgent movement for reform more likely will be based on a determination to defeat the regulars than to serve the people. This is another reason why the country will increase its faith in the democrats rather than expect results from quarreling factions. Tariff revision is a cardinal principle of the democratic party, and now that it has a majority in the house and sufficient strength to hold the senate in check, real advocates of revision will look to it for results, and if there are any republicans or insurgents sincere in their desires, the opportunity will be afforded them to serve the people by laying aside their partisanship and voting for their consideration. In that way, if they want tariff reform, they can get it, and at the same time win the approval of the public.

JAIL FOR TRUST MAGNATES.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

Thirteen poultry commission merchants, convicted of forming an illegal combination in restraint of trade, have been fined and sentenced to jail. The latter is the refreshing part. If guilty under the criminal statutes, they belong there. The voice of the people expressed in their laws says so, and a jurist who attempts to carry out the will of the people rather than to defeat it through technical rulings, only too easy to justify by the multitude of precedents, should be hailed as a good omen.

Of course, the reviewing courts have not finished with the case, and they are often ready to undo the work of the courts of original jurisdiction. It is unfortunate that this has been the case so frequently, for lack of confidence in the courts can breed nothing but anarchy. Now that a precedent has been established, and in the right direction, the curbing of illegal combines by the courts should be less of a joke.

These thirteen poultry men are comparatively unimportant, but their intentions so far as law violation was concerned were identical with those of the larger and more imposing magnates. That a fine for this class of offenders is nothing but a sort of systematized tribute for the privilege of privateering and has nothing of the idea of punishment about it, is self-evident. But not so with a jail sentence, than which nothing can be better calculated to impress on men the fact that they are lawbreakers. It is hoped that they are not suffering punishment because they are little fellows. That can be determined only after the precedent has either been followed or cast aside. Here is a good chance to knock out some of the arguments for the recall of the judiciary. More wholesome rulings of this sort would tend to still popular clamor.

ROME CITY READY FOR BIG REGATTA

Annual Water Event Saturday Will Be Attractive Affair.

The various committees in charge of the Sylvan Lake Regatta report favorably upon progress of arrangements for the biggest annual holiday ever held at that resort. The Lutheran mission festival held Sunday near Columbia City, which the Rev. J. R. Graebner, of this city, attended and was one of the speakers, was a very successful affair. Over 500 people attended it and the collections amounted to $100. Rev. Mr. Graebner delivered the English sermon and the Columbia City papers speak of it as having been an excellent discourse.

A MOTHER'S DUTY

It is the duty of every expectant mother to prepare her system for the coming of her little one; to avoid as far as possible the suffering of such occasions, and endeavor to pass through the crisis with her health and strength unimpaired. This she may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a remedy that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good, that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for exernal application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend has been used and endorsed by thousands of mothers, and its use will prove a comfort and a benefit to any woman in need of such a remedy. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers, which contains much valuable information.

OVERLY GOT RID OF BONY ANIMAL

Judge Said Any Man is Cruel Who Drives a Five-Dollar Horse.

CITY COURT CASES

Al Overly was acquitted in the city court today of the charge of cruelty to animals, but in the course of testimony it was shown that he had disposed of his old nag for $5, and the judge told him that a man who would drive a five-dollar horse under any circumstances ought to be convicted.

There was no direct testimony against Overly. He owned a bony old horse for a week and the charge was filed because the animal's hide was covered with welts. He said these were there when he made the purchase. He was able to show he bought feed and the testimony was not strong against him.

The Other Cases.

John Taylor, living at 1604 West Main street, was held to the juvenile court for taking $12 from the cash drawer at William L. Lampke's butcher shop. Lampke is the same man who was held up two or three years ago by a highwayman who robbed his till.

Charles McElroy, a negro scavenger, said he did not throw a lot of refuse matter on the Clinton street dump and charged the offense to Al Upleger, his assistant. Upleger will be brought into court tomorrow morning to see what he has to say about it.

Ed Murphy, plain drunk, was fined $5 and costs. Ed Kehoe was let go and Mike Merrick was held until next Tuesday.

MASTERS OF CORPORATIONS.

Many Changes Have Occurred in the Past Few Years.

(New York Evening Post.)

It was only a matter of two years ago that E. H. Harriman, H. H. Rogers and H. C. Frick were the Union Pacific. Harriman and Rogers died in 1909. This week Frick resigned from the Union Pacific directory, and the incident called attention to the changes that are continually occurring in the managemet of large corporations.

For example, take the United States Steel corporation. Three different presidents have been elected since the company was formed in 1901, and the following names no longer appear as directors: Francis H. Peabody, William Edenborn, John D. Rockefeller, H. H. Rogers, Charles M. Schwab, James Galey, Marshall Field, John D. Rockefeller, jr., Alfred Clifford, Robert Bacon, Nathaniel Thayer, Abraham S. Hewitt.

But the changes that have taken place in the last few years in the corporate responsibilities of many individuals are even more striking. As late as 1905 Thomas F. Ryan was a director of thirty-two different companies. Today he appears on the board of only three. John D. Rockefeller, jr., who at one time represented his father in eight different companies, has retired from all of them. Only a few months ago George J. Gould retired from the presidency of the Missouri Pacific. Before that change took place he had parted with Western Union and Manhattan Elevated, two other properties left by his father. Within a year or two sweeping changes have taken place in the control of a dozen or more other companies.

All of which goes to disprove the theory that the Standard Oil company will maintain its old position in the oil trade after the stocks of the thirty-five subsidiary companes have been distributed to shareholders pro rata. For a time the thirty-five companies will be controlled by the same individuals now in control of the present company, but in the natural order of events, the stocks of those companies will be widely distributed.

A DOG LOVED A CAT.

When my dog was a puppy I got a little kitten to keep him company. They got to be good friends, but as they got older the cat seemed to think she could take care of herself.

When the cat climbed a tree it seemed to puzzle the dog, and he would stand below the tree and look up at the cat and then at me, as if trying to understand how the cat could get into the tree while he had to stay on the ground.

When evening came the dog would hunt up the cat and carry her to the kennel where they slept at night. The dog kept one of his forelegs over the cat and there she had to stay until morning. At last the cat was killed, but I have the dog yet.

GIRLS CLIP THEIR HAIR.

Fameerettes on the Belmont Place Favor Buster Brown Style.

(Neport Letter to New York American.)

Jealous of the attention which a "cute" haircut attracted in Newport last Sunday, O. H. P. Belmont's farmerettes declared that they would follow the example of Miss Leonora Brokaw and dispense with their long tresses.

It was said that Mrs. Belmont, who suggested at the beginning of the farm work that the girls cut off their hair, would perhaps install a suffrage barber at the Brookholt Agricultural School for Women.

But no village barber need apply, or nothing but an up-to-date haircut of the Buster Brown design will please, so the girls say. The round, close haircut patronized by the Long Island farmer man does not appeal to the feminine farmerette taste.

Miss Brokaw, petite and only 18, is the first farmerette to profit by Mrs. Belmont's haircutting suggestion, also the suggestion that the girls could get more happily in touch with Nature by discarding shoes and stockings when working the fields.

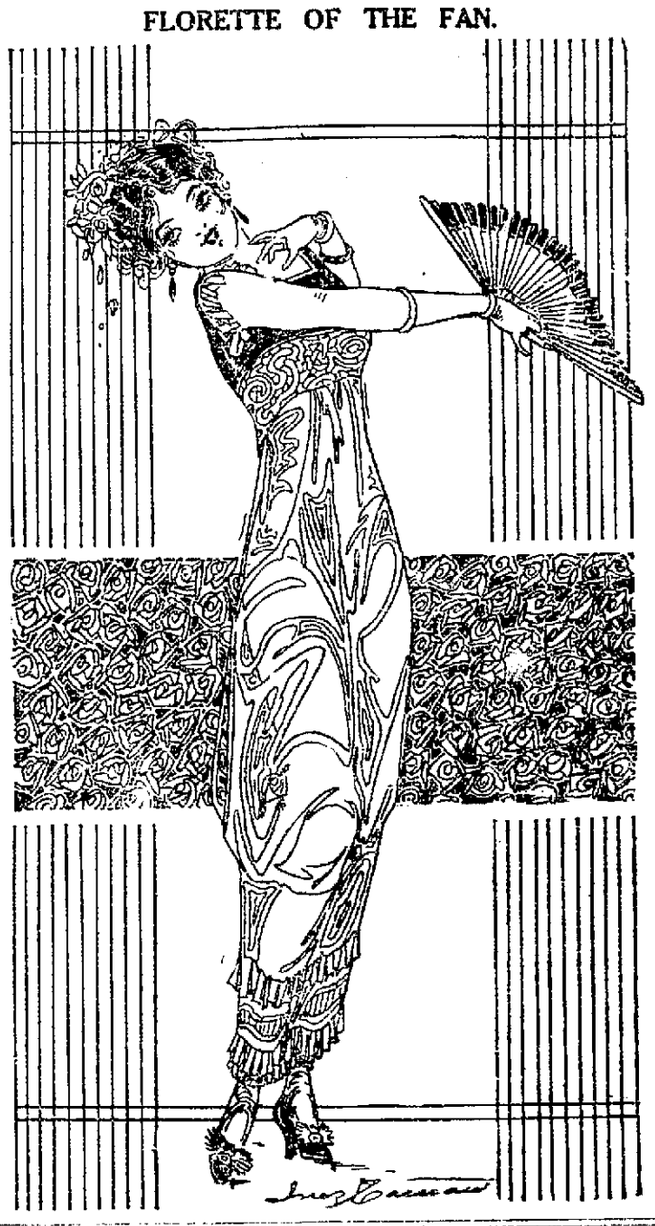
Fashion Hint From Paris

Paris Copyright 1911, by Boutigny

FLORETTE OF THE FAN.



PADDING EMBROIDERY.

Where heavy padding is desired under embroidery, try using little wads of raw cotton instead of filling in the padded space with many, many stitches of darning thread.

To pad a scallop, catch up a bit of raw cotton in your fingers and roll it between the thumb and forefinger until it is the length of the scallop, thick in the center but tapering to a mere thread at each end. Lay this on the scallop and with a few stitches catch to the material. Embroider over it in the usual way.

Flowers have their petals padded by making little cushion-like wads of cotton and catching them down to the material, well inside of the working line, with ordinary sewing cotton.

Cupids and ribbon designs are treated accordingly.

HINTS TO THE HOSTESS

The picturesque effect of the candle as a lighting medium at a private dinner is known to few hostesses, but those few never fail to take advantage of their invaluable discovery.

To gain the full value of this pretty practice, handed down by our grandmothers, the entire dining room must be cast into shadow, from which the table stands out a radiant vision of white papery, glistening silver and flowers. Tactless indeed is the hostess who leaves lighted the swinging electric or gas chandelier above the center of the table to destroy the whole candled effect, its pleasant comfort, its exquisite air of refinement.

Lamps complete in themselves or lamplowls set in candlesticks are both used. In such case there must be absolute freedom from oily odor, and the flame must be regulated to burn clearly and steadily. Crepe paper, tinted tulle or painted silk with ribbon or pendent bead trimming, shades the flame, gives the color scheme to the dinner and casts a soft glow across the cloth. Especially are they attractive on candles which burn steadily and have the advantage of not giving out as much heat as the lamps.

Rose red shades cast becoming shadows across the faces of diners. Moreover, in the lore of psychic influences of color, rose red is the shade of happiness, and so should put the guests in a joyous frame of mind. Pale gold, white and delicate green also give pleasant reflections. Blue, or any deep colors, should be avoided.

Fix the candles firmly in the sticks, equipped to catch the drippings. Have the inflammable shades protected with mica. Light the candles a few minutes before dinner is announced; snuff the wicks after a few moments, and a steady light during dinner is assured.

Candlesticks of silver or crystal are most effective, though there are some exquisite ones of porcelain. Antique sticks of brass are not in keeping with the delicacy of table appointments and should not be used. Be careful to have the candle shades and the flowers in harmonious colors. When tactfully and artistically arranged, the hostess will find she has achieved a veritable triumph in the candle lighted table.

RIGHT WAY TO TREAT STAINS.

Fruit stains should be treated at once. Rub the stain well with soft soap or good yellow soap, well wetted, and then cover it with a paste of salt and water.

If the fingers are stained from walnuts, dip them in strong tea, rubbing the nails well with it, with a nail brush and wash the hands at once in warm water and the stains will disappear. If grass stains are rubbed with pure alcohol they will disappear, but this should be done at once. For claret stains soak the cloth at once in skim milk and wash out in cold water.

White stains on polished wood caused by upsetting any spirit or by over-hot dishes or plates may be removed by applying to these spots a feather dipped in spirits of camphor. This must be used very sparingly and the furniture rubbed well with a cloth dipped in sweet oil, repeating the process if necessary. When the stain is completely removed, polish well with beeswax and turpentine or any good furniture polish. To clean ivory rub the stains with lemon juice, then with whiting made into a soft paste with lemon juice; allow this to dry on and when perfectly dry rub off with a soft cloth.

SKIRTS OF LINEN AND PIQUE.

The white linen or pique skirt bids fair to be as popular this season as ever. Nothing looks so cool and alluring in warm weather as the costume of spotless white. And the dainty blouse could not exist without the accompanying smart tailored skirt.

The skirts this year are all cut on straight, simple, narrow lines. The buttons extend down one side all the way to the hem, or the skirt may also be fastened down the two side gores just far enough to make a comfortable placket.

Occasionally one sees a few plaits inserted, to give greater freedom, but the plain skirt is far more practical for laundering purposes. Large pearl buttons are still the chief form of decoration, though a six-inch fold of the same material stitched a few inches above the hem of the skirt may give a little variety when one is planning a number of skirts.

Another model that is attractive is a nine-gore skirt, whose every gore had an inch and a half tuck stitched down to the bottom of the skirt. This gave no extra flare, but gave stability to material that is light in weight.

The girl who has enough skirts and dainty blouses has a fine foundation for her summer wardrobe.

THE SCHOOLGIRL'S HAIR RIBBONS

When there are several schoolgirl daughters in the family the expenditure on hair ribbons becomes quite a considerable item. Fastidious mothers who declare that ribbons never look well when washed should try the following method:

Make a mixture of three ounces of soft soap, three tablespoonfuls of honey, to a teacupful of gin and water.

The ribbon is placed on a board and scrubbed with the mixture. It is then rinsed by dipping several times in clean, cold water, and not squeezed out, but hung over a line to drip, then put between cloths and ironed by drawing the ribbons from under the iron. This prevents creasing and a stringy appearance at finish. The iron should be kept still with pressure upon it.

White ribbons will not turn yellow when washed if the water is warm instead of hot, and the soap used a fine white quality. Rinse in three waters, the last being a strong blue.

Hang in the sun until half dry, then press under clean muslin with a warm iron.

INCONGRUITIES IN FASHION.

It is the fashion this midsummer to wear felt and velvet hats, while felt toques trimmed with lace bows, big gray felt picture hats trimmed with roses. Fur, too, is appearing on many things. Lace dresses show it in narrow bands, and chiffon stoles are being trimmed with it. Velvet as a trimming, and even as a whole dress, has also made its appearance, but only in black or white or palest gray. Considering the temperature, such materials are quite ridiculous, and one does wish they did not look so well; but the fact remains that fur on lace is charming, and white felt hats are most becoming.

Probably by the time winter is with us we shall have exhausted our desire to wear either velvet or felt, and they will be replaced by silk and straw. One wonders what an old-fashioned grandmother would say if she could see such a curious sight as an up-to-date woman putting on a felt hat in summer.

DRESS HINTS.

Navy blue and scarlet are appearing prominently in the autumn ensemble of sartorial effects. They are the old army colors, deep navy blue and bright red, and are striking as well as youthful. Blue serge or rough tweed traveling and motor coats have hood collars of scarlet broadcloth, and blue serge suits show dashes of the scarlet in their trimming.

With these semi-military suits, many of which have smart touches of black braid, are worn the broad sombrero hats heralding the approach of autumn. While is extremely good in a hat of this kind, bent into a becoming shape and trimmed simply with a soft scarf, a band or a military ornament.

Russian blouses and Norfolk jackets are made to be worn with or without an underwaist. With a flannel or medium weight waist they could be worn far into the autumn, or even be made to serve as jackets.

HOOKS ON A WASH DRESS.

When using hooks and eyes to fasten a wash dress, try sewing the hooks on the under flap and the eyes on the upper, instead of the usual way. You will find that with this method the lap of your gown that shows most can be ironed flat and will have no unsightly humps where the hoops are underneath.

TO DRAW THREADS.

When drawing threads in material to be hemstitched, first soap the goods where the threads are to be drawn. Make a lather and apply with a small brush and, when dry, the threads will pull out easily.

A LUXURIANT GROWTH OF HAIR

Does Not Follow Neglect of the Scalp.

Aside from combing it when they think necessary many people give no attention whatever to their hair. Then when the hair begins to fall out it never occurs to them that their trouble is the result of personal carelessness.

An occasional application of Newbro's Herpicide will not only prevent loss of hair but permits a luxuriant growth.

Herpicide kills the germ that causes dandruff and to this germ most hair losses are attributable. It keeps the scalp clean and free from dirt, allowing the hair to grow unhampered by accumulation of dandruff.

Newbro's Herpicide is sold by all druggists and its manufacturers have such confidence in its germ destroying power that they authorize all druggists to guarantee the one dollar size bottles to do as claimed or money refunded.

Applications may be obtained at good barber shops.

Send 10c in postage for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R, Detroit, Mich. Bradley Bros., 627 Calhoun, Special Agents.

Pilaff of Rice.

Wash a cupful of rice and cook it in one tablespoonful of butter until lightly colored; add a pint of boiling water, cover and cook until the water is absorbed. Then add one pint of stewed and strained tomato, salt and pepper to season and when the rice is quite dry again mix in one tablespoonful of butter cut in bits, then turn at once into a hot dish.

Frozen Fruit Pudding.

Beat well together the yolks of three eggs and one cupful and a half of granulated sugar. Scald one pint of milk, pour gradually over the egg mixture then return to the double boiler and stir and cook until thickened enough to mask the back of a spoon. Strain and cool, then freeze. In the meantime blanch and grate four ounces of almonds, shred very fine two ounces of citron and two ounces of candied pineapple; soak for two hours a half cupful of seedless raisins in sufficient sherry to cover, then drain. Add all these ingredients together with one teaspoonful of vanilla, one tablespoonful of brandy and the grated rind of an orange to the frozen cream. Work well together, pack in the can after dasher is removed; repack the freezer, stand away for two hours to ripen.

Follette and the insurgents are able to take care of themselves. So I leave them out of this interview. They will no doubt take up the cudgels in their own behalf.

An Ungrateful Performance.

"The president's criticism of Mr. Underwood and myself, which is essentially a criticism of all democrats in the house and senate because all democrats stood together is absolutely uncalled for and is as ungrateful a performance as I can remember, for if it had not been for the action of the democrats in the house in both the Sixty-first and Sixty-second congresses in lining up almost unanimously in favor of reciprocity with Canada, he would have been the most thoroughly discredited and humiliated president since the days of Andrew Johnson.

"With all the influence and patronage of his great office he could not muster a majority of house republicans for reciprocity in either the Sixty-first or the Sixty-second congresses. After we pulled him out of the hole in the Sixty-first congress he wrote a letter of thanks to Mr. McCall, of Massachussetts, and the republicans and not a word of thanks to the democrats.

Pulled Him Out of Hole Again.

"When we repeated the performance of pulling him out of the hole in the Sixty-second congress he did divide the thanks between democrats and republicans. That was after I and other democrats had expressed our opinions with considerable force and bluntness about his letter of thanks to Mr. McCall.

"The president says that we did not play politics about reciprocity but that we did play politics about the tariff. The only politics we played was to keep faith with the people and to religiously redeem the promises we made in order to win the election in 1910 which is the best and noblest sort of politics. If any politics was played on reciprocity the president himself played it—personal at that.

Forewarned of Program.

"He seems to think that we ought to have adjourned so soon as reciprocity was disposed of—that is, he seems to think that congress is composed of a lot of school boys to be ordered about by him as head teacher, but he was forewarned, both by Mr. Underwood and myself, that if he called the extraordinary session we would pass tariff bills and such other bills as the democrats deemed advisable. He will not deny that statement.

"If we had done less than we did, we would not have been worthy of so great a portion of public confidence as we now enjoy. We made the best record of constructive statesmanship made by any congress in the same length of time in a generation and that fact is precisely what caused the president to assail the democrats in congress.

Democracy for the Masses.

"He had said the rates of wool schedule in the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill were too high and ought to be reduced. We reduced them. In the teeth of his Winona speech, and his other declarations, to the effect that several schedules were too high and ought to be reduced he vetoed our wool bill, which largely reduced the rates and would have greatly relieved the people, by giving them much cheaper clothing and blankets. He vetoed it, thereby going over, boots and breeches to the standpatters.

"We cheerfully meet him on that issue. We stand for the best interests of the masses; he stands for a handful of protected tariff barons and by his veto enables them to continue to levy unjust and exorbitant tribute upon the consumers of the land. He appears to hope that the consumers will kiss his hand, which is the hand that smote them sorely.

Does Not Favor Tariff Commission.

"The president endeavors to convey the impression that Mr. Underwood and I advocated his tariff commission. We did no such thing. What Underwood and I did advocate and vote for, was a board of tariff experts to be governed by and made responsible to the house in general and to the committee on ways and means in particular, because the house is charged by the constitution with originating revenue bills.

"We were never in favor of a tariff board or commission under the control of the president alone and responsive to him only. The Congressional Record will fully and clearly prove my contention herein stated.

"The president's tariff board is composed of able and well informed men in a general way. I know that my friend, Hon. William Howard is. I served in congress with him many years and I rate his capacity high, but he is not a tariff expert. So far as I have been able to learn the others are not experts.

Are Familiar With Tariff.

"On the other hand several members of the house, both republicans and democrats including Mr. Underwood and myself have spent half a lifetime studying and debating the tariff. Many of us participated in debate on the Dingley bill. Many of us participated later in the hearing and debates on the Payne-Aldrich-Smoot bill which the president has declared is the best tariff bill ever passed and which I confidently assert is the worst.

"The service of some house and senate members even goes back to the McKinley bill, the Springer bill, the Mills bill and the Morrison bills. Then why should we wait for the verdict of the president's board of tariff non-experts?

President Not Consistent.

"It will be noted that while the president's conscience would not permit him to sign a bill revising even one schedule—the wool schedule, the rates of which he declared to be too high and in need of reduction—without recommendation from his board of non-experts, he promptly signed the outrageous Payne-Aldrich-Smoot tariff bill without the counsel, advice or tuition of any tariff board whatsoever.

"That bill was so bad that in a house with a republican majority we lacked only five votes of killing it by recommitting it. That day twenty-four patriotic republicans voted with us, among them Hon. J. R. Mann, the present republican minority leader. I was privileged as democratic minority leader to lead in that great and righteous fight, which will be a consolation to me so long as life lasts.

Will Fix the Tariff Board.

"It might as well be understood now as later, that if the tariff board is to be used as a pretext for delaying tariff revision downward, as the president is now using it instead of expediting genuine and salutary tariff revision its days will be few, for we will cut off its supplies. This board already has cost three or four hundred thousand dollars and has not given to congress any information to aid in revising the tariff.

"Mr. Underwood and I say that we would gladly receive information on the tariff from anybody possessing it, but we never did say and never will say we must wait until the president's board is ready to make recommendations.

Taft No Tariff Expert.

"The president himself is a man of large general information as well as a man of great ability, but certinly he is not enough of a tariff expert to justify him in vetoing tariff bills, which passed the house by majorities of more than 2 to 1. It is not a flippant or unfriendly statement to say that he possesses the 'surface information' on the tariff, as Governor Dingley denominated it, which is possessed by every citizen well informed in a general way.

"The president implies that he refused to sign the tariff bill because it was introduced and rushed through without the consideration. Let's see. The caucus of democratic members-elect to the Sixty-second congress met January 19 and selected the democratic members of the committee on ways and means, making Mr. Underwood chairman and at once began to assemble information on the wool schedule.

Same Comparison.

"The bill was reported to the house about the middle of April a period of three months, on the preparation of one schedule of fourteen. Whereas, the hearing on the Payne bill with fourteen schedules began November 11 and the bill was reported to the house March 18, a period of a little over four months, devoted to fourteen schedules. Any tyro in arithmetic knows that as we devoted three months to one schedule and the framers of the Payne bill devoted on the average only two sevenths of one month to each schedule we devoted ten and one-half times as much time to a schedule as did brother Payne and his republican coadjutors on ways and means. Nevertheless and notwithstanding, the president signed the Payne-Aldrich-Smoot bill and vetoed ours.

"In this connection it should not be forgotten that when Mr. Underwood reported the wool bill, every line, paragraph and section was thrown open to debate and amendment and that the debate continued until the members discussed it all they wanted to.

Wool Bill Well Considered.

"Instead of being slapped together hastily without due consideration, it was one of the most thoroughly and carefully considered tariff bills ever presented to any president for his signature.

"In view of the foregoing facts it surely must be that the president in his zeal to reform the broken lines of the standpatters forgot that all men were entitled to a square deal when he uttered this monstrous and preposterous sentence:

"'The bills bear internal evidence of the fact that they rested on a basis of not tariff for revenue only, but tariff for politics only.'

"Really I do not see how he could find it in his heart to utter the foregoing words for which there is no basis of fact in the universe.

Reckless and Unfair.

"'Never in the history of the government, I venture to say, have important public interests been dealt with in such a light-hearted way, with such absolute ignorance of the effect of legislation and with such willingness to sacrifice business interests to political exigencies.'

"That is as reckless and unfair a statement as has been put into print since Guttenburg invented movable type, and is a personal reflection on the sense, honesty, integrity, bonafides and patriotism of every man, democrat or republican, who voted for these bills. As such I resent them, not for myself alone, but for all who voted as I did.

"That was a queer and suggestive picture for democrats and tariff reform republicans to contemplate—the president making a standpat speech at Hamilton, Mass., on the farm of my good standpat friend, Hon. Augustus Peabody Gardner, flanked on one side by Brother Gardner himself and on the other by Gardner's renowned father-in-law, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, chief of protective highbinders. That was enough to make the angels weep.

"The president rushed in to create an issue. We pick up the glove flung into our faces and the faces of the consumers of the land. We gladly accept his gage of battle. We confidently believe the people will endorse our cause and give to us the victory for which we have fought with justice on our side.

MOLIERE ON WOMEN.

Thirty years ago there were three colleges for women in France and one preparatory school; now there are seventy-five colleges and forty-nine preparatory schools. What does the change mean? Moliere, over two centuries ago, in "Les Precieuses Ridicules" and "Les Femmes Savantes," attacked the pose, self-consciousness and loss of proportion which the women of his time sometimes showed in attempting to be learned. Moliere laughed, however, not at education, but at lack of common sense. If he lived now he would not try to set back the clock, and ask women to devote to the needle the same attention that she gave before machinery was invented. He would not ask her to live as she lived before there were public schools for her children; creameries to make her butter and cheese; big manufacturers to take her place in preserving food; immense combinations to spin cotton, make cloth, do the dyeing, make up the clothing. He would welcome the vacuum cleaner, the gas stove and the dumb waiter, and his laughter would be not for those who use modern labor saving devices, but for the futile sentimentalists who cry for the vanishing of the past. The outside education and activities of women are as unquestionable and irresistible as are the printing press, the steam engine and the cotton gin.—Collier's Weekly.

Snails, the only genuine part of which are the shells, are now being sold in Paris, and it is said that the imitation of the real article is so close that many epicures have a high opinion of the sham product. But it is to be presumed that they do not know that the snails are artifical, and they are certainly ignorant of the method by which the snails are manufactured.

Increase Weight Quickly

Simple Way for the Thin and Pale to Be Plump and Rosy.

Samose can hardly be termed a medicine, it is in reality a flesh forming food. Taken before or after meals, it mingles with the food you eat, enables it to assimilate and readily digest, so as to make rich blood and pleasing plumpness.

After Samose has been used a week or ten days a noticeable gain in weight is seen. The sallow complexion will become rosy, the sunken cheeks will have a ruddy glow, the eyes will be bright, the breath sweet and the step elastic.

Meyer Bros. Co.'s customers have told them of the remarkable results following the use of Samose, the great flesh forming food, and they are so thoroughly convinced of its reliability that they are selling it under a personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it. PLAYERS DO NOT LIKE NEW BERTH

Surface Indications Point to This and That Wheeler's in Bad.

DAYTON TAKES GAME

There is something very radically wrong at South Bend and either the transplanted players do not like their new berth or they are not pleased with their new manager. This is evidenced by the quality of ball the men have been playing since the switch in the Central league sent them to South Bend.

Although the club has been in the second division all season it has been known as a hustling ball team, always hard to beat and always out working for every game. Only two games of the nine played since the men went to South Bend is the record and this is not up to the true form of the troupe that Aggie Grant got together when he started at Evansville this season.

The club has shown up to the time of the transfer that it was full of good material and the mere records at Evansville was never half as bad as it has been on the Springbrook park field.

Giving Eddie Wheeler credit for being a good manager it's going a little too far to say he is a popular manager. His ideas of discipline are a bit overtrained, due to the fact that he is strictly temperate in his own habits. Taft leads him to expect the much of ball players and he does not enjoy the high respect which a manager is bound to command in order to be successful.

Grant has always been popular and this was shown when his men worked their heads off for him with the salaries two months in arrears. Few managers and owners can control players under these conditions and summing up the situation there is reason to believe that dissatisfaction exists at "The Bend" and that it is showing in the play of the men.

With Drellinger, a recruit in the box, Dayton hung out a 13-to-2 victory in spite of the fact that Frank Winchell was his twelve tients for fifteen bases, made a balk, hit one batter and gave four bases on balls.

True, the team has been handicapped by the sale of Tom Cantwell, but at that it should have won more games than it has and even where it lost the scores do not indicate that it was up and fighting like is used to.

Drellinger allowed twenty-one hits and one of them was a homer, which Punch Knoll hit in the eighth with a man on bases.

Wheeling and Grand Rapids started a double-header and got as far as the sixth inning of the first when the rain cut in and stopped proceedings and there are two battles that will never be fought as the clubs do not meet again under the present schedule. The scores: R. H. E.

South Bend .....0 0 0 0 1 2 0 0 0—3 12 2
Dayton .....0 0 4 1 1 0 4 2 1—13 21 2

Batteries—Drellinger and O'Brien; Winchell and Rohrer.

SOUTH BEND NOT CERTAIN OF CLUB

Hitch Somewhere in the Proceedings May Cause Trouble.

DEAL NOT ARRANGED

After South Bend citizens had organized, sold stock and done all of the things they thought necessary to land a baseball franchise for the city some kind of a dark secret crept into the proceedings and now there is grave danger that the old Evansville club will be transferred.

Just what the trouble is has not been made public, but there will be a meeting of the new directors tomorrow night and then it may come to the surface. One of the greatest blessings that will come to the Central league will arrive when the organization decides not to take the franchise.

Individual ownership or companies with not more than three active stockholders are the only ones that put on the right kind of baseball and the only ones that stick to the end whether it win or loses. For verification of this it is simply necessary to look at Fort Wayne, Dayton, Wheeling, Grand Rapids and Terre Haute. All of these teams have had their pay days twice a month, even when the gate receipts were not sufficient to meet them. There have been others where the clubs were owned by individuals, but they are few. Phil Arnold lives his receipts on horse rides. Aggie Grant and Harley Parker got in on four flushes and Charlie Brotherton simply quit because he didn't know the business. Every stock company that has owned a team has gone on the rocks.

To get back to the South Bend situation it is difficult to understand. Everything was in readiness to take over the team, Wheeler was made manager and it looked like it was all over but signing the papers and then the cloud rose on the horizon and behind it is the dark secret.

In the meantime the team left last night to play at Evansville and Wheeling and Terre Haute and will return to close the season at home with six games, the last of which will be played September 10.

BOX SCORE PICKINGS.

Dolly Stark made two of Brooklyn's three hits in the game against Cincinnati and scored the only run registered by the Dodgers.

Rube Marquard paid back a little more of that $11,000 when he held the Cardinals to two hits and a shutout. Steele gave him a battle at that.

Bill McKechnie and Max Carey both helped Babe Adams trim the Beans, as both are credited with singles.

After the Cubs had jarred Grover Cleveland Alexander out of the box in a game in which a rowdy spectator was permitted to call Brown and the other Chicago players bad names without molestation, the champs won handily. When Umpire Klem threatened to forfeit the game the spectator was removed. Brown was tight all the way.

Tex Covington held the Athletics to one hit in four innings after Wild Bill Donovan and Willett had been chased. He hit one batsman and fanned two. A delegation of southern automobilists were at the game to see Cobb, but the Georgian didn't reach first. Del Gainor got a single and a sacrifice.

Jimmy Austin was ordered off the lot at St. Louis for wrangling with the umpire. Curry pitched eight innings for the Browns and passed ten men.

Tris Speaker got back in the Boston Red Sox lineup and it cleaned the White Sox. Pape pitched good ball and had excellent support.

PRINCIPALS IN BIG WRESTLING BOUT LABOR DAY

INTERESTING BITS OF SPORT CHATTER

During Cy Young's major league career he won 507 games and lost 310.

Dayton made a run record for the Central league Sunday when it took eighteen runs in the game with South Bend.

Billy Papke says when he trained for Sailor Burke he figured that he was to to meet a big boob and he was not conditioned for the battle the big fellow gave him.

Montgomery is arranging to try out a couple of new pitchers against the Terre Haute team. Thomas, an amateur is one and the other is Richie, one of his farmed men.

Joe Raidy is having his troubles getting "Red" Prysock back from the Piqua team. He was loaned to the club before the Central league season started and now Raidy can't get him to return.

Ad Wolgast denies the report that he will retire from the ring and settle down to farming. He says so long as he is a top line attraction he will stick to the game.

Bender of the Athletics still continues to lead the American league hurlers with fourteen victories and four defeats. Gregg, of Cleveland has won nineteen and lost seven.

Punch Knoll is proud of the record made by the Veterans on the road this year. They have won thirty-four of fifty-five games, giving them a road percentage of .618, which is a most excellent showing.

Bert Annis ought to get a bunch of Bloomer girls to represent Grand Rapids in the Central league. A troupe of these female baseball jokes drew over 2,000 people to Ramona park Sunday and that's more than has turned out at any Central league game there this season.

Now, that the Brooklyn club has grabbed Slow Joe Doyle, Charley Ebbets will put in Turkish divans at Washington park. If there are two more deliberate pitchers than Doyle and Knetzer their presence hasn't been noted. As sleep inducers they should succeed.

Jimmy Archer of the Cubs is proud of a feat which he thinks to be a world's record. When playing with the Atlanta Southern league team he caught three men napping off first, second and third base in one inning. The bags were filled and Jimmy picked them off one at a time.

Pitcher Frank Smith tried a brand new play in Boston the other day. He was pitching for the Reds, and Kling of the Beaneaters was on second. Smithy saw a chance to tag Kling off second, and made a run for the base, but could not stop until he reached center field. Some of the fans believed the plano mover had lost his senses, and were strong for calling the police.

TOOK THREE TRIPS TO GET JACKSON OUT OF THE COTTON MILLS LEAGUE

Joe Jackson, the wonderful right fielder of the Cleveland club, is a product of the South Carolina cotton mills, on the teams representing which mills he played prior to the discovery by one of Connie Mack's scouts that the bare-footed boy was of big league caliber. Ossie Schreckengost, the former Athletic catcher, who became famous as the receiver of the erratic Rube Waddell when the big left-hander was in his prime, was the scout who, South Carolinians say, found Joe Jackson.

Jackson at that time was playing on the Greenville (S. C.) team, and was its best batsman and leading run-getter. He went to Greenville after a career on the Piedmont and Mollohon mills teams of the Piedmont section of South Carolina. It was while with the Piedmont mills outfit that the manager of the Greenville team saw him play. He was a country boy then, and what he knew about reading and writing could be put in the left-hand corner of a primary school slate, according to Jackson's Carolina admirers.

Down in Newberry, S. C., where is located the Mollohon mills, they say that it took three railroad trips to get Jackson to Philadelphia, where he played for a brief period last year with the Philadelphia Athletics. At that time the boy had never been in a city of more than 50,000 population, and it is said that he was mortally afraid of the big town. The Athletics' scout on the first attempt to get Jackson north succeeded in piloting him as far as Charlotte, N. C., when the boy decided he had gone far enough, and, leaving the train, he successfully hid from Schreckengost. A day later the boy showed up in the Piedmont country.

"What's the matter, Joe? Don't you want to be a big leaguer?" the surprised friends of the young star asked.

"No; them big places is too big. Pelzer, Piedmont and Newberry just about suits me," was the gist of his answer, and the next afternoon he was slamming out three-baggers and home runs for the home folks' team as of old.

A few days passed and the Athletic scout returned to find out why Joe had given him the slip in Charlotte. Joe laughingly told him the reason of it all, and after much persuasion finally consented to start a second time for the Quaker City.

The second trip was a little more successful than the first one, according to Jackson's Carolina friends, in that the cotton mill's fielder got about 200 miles nearer to his destination than on the first trip. They say he kept his nerve until he was somewhere in Virginia, and then the memories of the big smokestacks and the cotton fields back in Piedmont got in their work. The end of the story was similar to that of the first, for two days later Joe was back in Piedmont telling the boys all about it and gleefully exclaiming how glad he was to be back in the home country again.

The third time the scout appeared and had more heart-to-heart talks with Joe, and once more Joe consented to migrate to the Pennsylvania metropolis. This time he went all the way, and he played a few games with Connie Mack's teams. He did fine work, and everybody was surprised when Connie let Cleveland get him last spring. Now Connie Mack could not get him back for any price.

This is the story they tell around the Mollohon cotton mills of the departure for the big league of Joe Jackson, of the Clevelands.

Before the boy got to playing ball for money they say he never wore shoes except in bitter cold weather.

"Shoes were an abomination to him in the olden days," an admirer of the Cleveland right fielder said the other day. In South Carolina everybody is watching the career of Joe Jackson, and every baseball fan in the state is watching with pride the career of the brilliant young player.

Every cotton mill in South Carolina has a ball team, and in the Piedmont country there's still a lot of good league material, but whether any of it is as good as Jackson only time can tell. But the big league scouts are looking out for promising youngsters all the time. It might be added that Tyrus Cobb, the great Detroit outfielder, came from the Augusta (Ga.), country, which is only a short journey from the scenes of Joe Jackson's boyhood.

HACKENSCHMIDT WILL DEPEND UPON HIS GREAT ENDURANCE TO DEFEAT THE HUMBOLT WRESTLER

Grueling Affray is Expected When the Giants Meet on the Mat to Settle the World's Championship.

Gotch Says He is Not Afraid of What Russian Lion Has Learned from Working With Dr. Roller.

Power of endurance will be one of the greatest factors in the world's champion match between Frank Gotch, present titleholder, and George Hackenschmidt, the "Russian lion," when these giants of modern wrestling meet in Comiskey baseball park on Monday, Sept. 4. This struggle for the championship which promises to be the greatest of the century will bring together two men, powerful of physique, who possess all the knowledge of the art of wrestling that any man could know.

One thing that is as sure as death and taxes, is that both will find themselves mixed up in a grueling affray before half an hour's time has elapsed after they take holds. And it is here and later as the battle progresses that the power of endurance will assert itself. The man who weakens first must inevitably be carried into defeat. It is hard for the close follower of the game to see where either of the giants will have his shoulders pinned to the mat in quick time, trickery or no trickery.

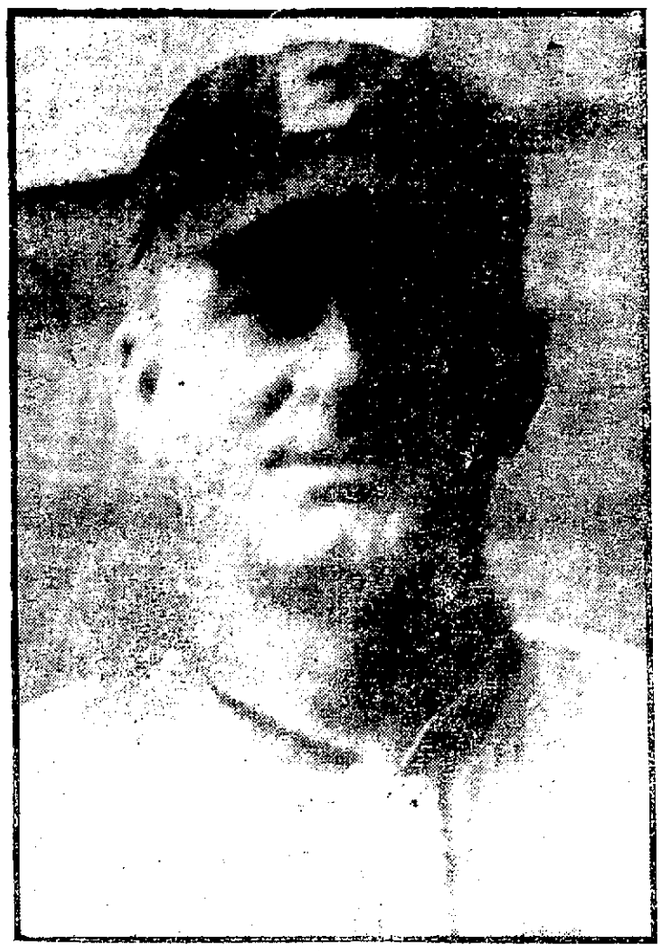
It is not expected that Hack could perform the trick of pinning the champion down and taking the title away from him so easily, for he is a plodding sort of grappler and likes to be termed a "plodder." In all of his matches he has taken his time and played safe only to wear out his opponents and defeat them by his strength and endurance. That he intends to work along the same lines against Gotch on Labor day seems certain, for the style has won him all the honors he has obtained, and it is hard to see why he should change and take a chance by speeding that might cause his downfall at the hands of the tricky champion.

This man Hackenschmidt concedes no one greater strength and as long as strength remains as factor he is likely to stay in the ring with Gotch until doom's day. But it is up to Gotch as to whether or not strength is to be the most important thing in the coming conflict.

The big Iowa farmer certainly will not allow himself to be worn out. He hasn't in other matches, and in this crucial one he is expected to employ some tactics that seldom are seen in any wrestling ring. Undoubtedly he will resort to trickery by which he has brought many a more powerful opponent down to defeat. Only a couple of days ago when a visitor at the Gotch camp in Humboldt, Iowa, informed the champion that Hackenschmidt had learned all his tricks from Dr. Roller, who is head of the "Russian lion's" training corps, and would be on the lookout for them, Gotch came back: "Oh, there will be a few new ones for him to figure out."

This shows that the champion, who is an inventive genius if there ever was one in the wrestling game, will play this same trickery as his top card and that he will play it to the limit. Undoubtedly Hack is "wise" to many of the tricks of the trade, but he will need to be on the lookout every minute and his strength and endurance will be his top card all the time.

WILL HAVE MONEY BEHIND HIM



ANGUS A. GRANT.

When Aggie Grant takes hold of the Terre Haute club as manager he will have behind him something he has never had since he took charge as pilot of the South Bend club nearly eight years ago. A. W. Wagner and the men associated with him at Terre Haute have money and they will spend it to build up a club, and Aggie Grant will get one for his employers.

When South Bend took a shy at Central league ball everybody in town took a $25 interest in the club and launched the enterprise, but the manager was forced to pick up amateurs and develop them and he never had the coin to go out and purchase like other managers.

With a mediocre team he kept right in the fight most of the time and gave Fort Wayne two awful chases for the pennants, the first two years of the organization's existence. From South Bend he went to Evansville on his own hook and with a limited capital. He pulled through one season, but luck broke against him this year and he was forced to the wall.

Terre Haute fans will like Grant and with the Wagner baseball connections to help him he will give the town a good team. He believes in trying to develop a man or two every year as a source of profit to his owners and winning or losing he always puts on interesting baseball.

Aggie Grant is agressive, knows the game, is constantly out on the lines fighting and if Terre Haute owners hold him for next season it is likely they will have cause to congratulate themselves.

FRIARS OUT FOR A QUARTER BACK

Position Will Be Filled as Soon as Player Makes the Place.

MEETING IS CALLED

As soon as the question of a quarter back for the Friars' football team is settled one of the most difficult propositions facing the management will have been disposed of. This place will be left open until a player makes the team who is able to fill it acceptably and then the team will be ready to take on the best squads that it can find in this section.

Football enthusiasts of this city will have an opportunity to see some real lively gridiron matches this season if the present plans of the club materialize. The members of last year's team and all new recruits will meet tonight at the club rooms and plans for the coming season will be discussed.

The Friars have put a winning team in the field for the past three or four years and the prospects for this season are highly flattering, as several players with reputations have consented to try out for positions. Merriman, an old University of Chicago star, who is now located in this city, will don the moleskins and Hudsell, who won fame at Notre Dame has consented to offer his services to the local aggregation. These two men will be a valuable addition to the organization. Merriman will play one of the half back positions and Hudsell will be placed at guard or tackle. The last year's pieskin artists, who will report this season are Braden, Pask, Ellenwood, Gill and Wilson.

As yet no schedule has been made out for the season, but several teams of state wide fame have been heard from, and as soon as possible bookings will be made with six or eight aggregations. Wilson Academy, the Wabash Athletics and the Marion club, of Indianapolis, will undoubtedly be taken on.

Look At the Doctors' Game

THE doctors of this country are working a nice little game. It goes like this. The family physician decides that the services of a specialist are needed. He suggests a man. Then he gets a part of the specialist's fee as a commission. This always increases the cost to the patient, and has even caused needless and dangerous surgical operations. And it has got to be a general practice. You can stop it, and nobody else. Some doctors have tried. But it's up to you. The story begins on page 286 of Pearson's Magazine now on sale. Big physicians and surgeons give the facts. Read the story. It's worth a lot to everybody who has doctor's bills.

Is your daughter going to college? Read the story on page 310 of the same magazine; that may save you a lot of trouble. The second part of the series of stories showing how the courts of this country have usurped power which is not for the benefit of the majority is in the same magazine. The famous tales of the Apaches of New York by Alfred Henry Lewis are also renewed. And for fiction

NEWS OF STORM STILL MEAGER

Damage is Immense and a Loss of Life Afflicts Charleston.

NEWS FROM VESSELS

Savannah, Ga., Aug. 29.—All vessels at sea are reported safe. The Clyde line Apache was located this morning by the wireless off shore and is off Charleston in tow of a tug, ready to come into the harbor.

The officers of the ship reported the worst storm in their experience at sea and stated that the vessel had a close call. All other vessels, including the City of Savannah from New York to Savannah, and the City of Montgomery from Savannah to New York, are reported safe. There was great uneasiness about them for a time.

The new hotel Tybee was unroofed by the storm and all of the piazzas were swept away. Many houses on Tybee island were lifted from their foundations by the terrific winds and moved many yards.

In the city of Savannah the damage to property was great. The cotton crop for a radius of fifty miles has been badly damaged by the wind and rain.

Passengers arriving in Savannah from Charleston report untold damage in that city from the storm. Many lives are said to be lost.

The storm is practically over here, but rain is still falling.

Spent in Terror and Prayer.

Augusta, Ga., Aug. 29.—Seventy-five guests of the hotel on the Isle of Pines spent a night of terror while the storm raged. Congregated in the lobby, the only spot immune from the wind and rain, women wept and prayed and one man held a pistol in readiness to shoot himself to avoid drowning. It is believed all those stranded on the island will be rescued today.

A story of the intense suffering of seventy-five persons marooned on the Isle of Palms was told by one of the refugees who reached Charleston yesterday evening on a tug, according to a man who arrived here from Charleston today. No lives were lost, although much property was destroyed on the island.

No violence was reported in Charleston up to early today although the city was in almost total darkness.

Arrivals from Charleston estimate damage close to a million dollars, the principal damage being to the street railway system, the docks and the streets.

BLUFFTON NEWS.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 29.—The Wells county teachers' institute opened Monday morning with a large crowd in attendance. The instructors are Dr. A. B. Van Ormer, of Shippensburg, Pa.; Dr. W. S. Currell, of Lexington, Va., and Mrs. K. C. Haukemier, of Indianapolis. Dr. Clark Crawford, pastor of the M. E. church, conducted the opening service.

Emery Cotton, a well known young farmer, living west of Bluffton, has filed suit for divorce from his wife, Ocie Cotton. He alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and claims she abandoned him on August 5. Mrs. Cotton was formerly Miss Ocie Lyons, of this city.

Miss Rhue Lanning and LeRoy Dolhl, living east of Bluffton, were painfully injured in a runaway Sunday night. The accident was caused by unknown young men driving into the rig occupied by the young people.

James Chaddock arrived home Monday from a trip of three months through the northwest part of the United States and Canada.

Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Cook and daughters, Justine and Irene, will arrive home the latter part of the week from Los Angeles, Cal., where they have spent the past three months.

Abram Drich and Miss Ida Steckall, Russians, were married Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mochael Roberts, in Keystone. The bride arrived only a few days ago from Russia. The groom has lived in Geneva for a number of years.

Walter Scott, the local pitcher, owned by the Lynn, Mass., club of the New England league, has been sold to the Saginaw club of the Southern Michigan league, reporting for duty there Monday.

GIVEN TIME EXTENSION.

More Latitude for Reorganization of the Tobacco Trust.

New York, Aug. 29.—The time for depositing stocks and bonds of the American Tobacco company preliminary to the reorganization ordered by the supreme court has been extended to September 15 for the stock and to September 27 for the bonds. Yesterday was the final day originally set for such deposits, but a conference of the members of the committees appointed to protect the interests of the holders of Tobacco company securities agreed upon the postponement.

A representative of the stockholders committee said that about 50 per cent of the stock had been deposited or pledged for deposit and a large amount of bonds. An attorney for the Tobacco company is authority for the statement that on Thursday an application probably will be made to the United States circuit court for an order directing the American Tobacco company to bear the reasonable expenses of the stockholders' committees.

Dr. George Studer, who has been a patient at St. Joseph's hospital for several weeks, was removed this afternoon to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Studer, of 650 West Third street. His condition, which has been serious, remains unchanged.

GREAT SPECTACLE BEGINS TONIGHT

"The Light Eternal" Opens at Majestic for Three Performances.

A LAVISH PRODUCTION

"The Light Eternal" will have its first presentation for the new season at the Majestic theater tonight. The production, rich as it was last season, will be found to have been staged with increased lavishness and in many ways improved, though it was one of the big road successes and played to immense business from St. Louis to Boston. Manager M. E. Rice has evidently spared no expense to make this romantic and spectacular drama of early Christian martyrdom in every way equal to its splendid theme and the heroic time in which its scenes are laid. The scenery is created anew and upon a more splendid scale, the stage appointments are a fitting reproduction of what was luxurious in the imperial city during the early part of the fourth century and the costuming is exceedingly rich. In all things there has been a well rewarded effort to make the production historically accurate. Miss Eugenia Blair again heads the company and is splendidly supported by Mr. Lessey and Mr. Milton and a first-class company. A dress rehearsal was given last night and flashlight photographs of the new production were taken. The sale of seats for tonight is large. "The Light Eternal" will be repeated tomorrow and Thursday nights.

CHAIRMAN LEE IS SEVERE ON TAFT

Says President's Speech at Hamilton Was a Blunder.

IT HURTS IN INDIANA

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 29.—Edward Lee chairman of the state republican committee who is here on a scouting expedition, is worried over what effect President Taft's Massachussetts address in which he read the insurgents out of the party, will have in Indiana in the coming presidential campaign. Styling the president's speech as his "latest break" and "unfortunate to say the least," Chairman Lee showed plainly that he regarded the speech as poor politics, especially since it is considered the keynote of President Taft's campaign for renomination.

"In the last few weeks," said Chairman Lee "I have visited sixty counties of the state and found the outlook for a republican victory good in many of the counties. Until Monday I had noticed a more friendly feeling for President Taft among the rank and file of the party due to his reciprocity addresses in Chicago and Indianapolis. But what effect his speech in Massachussetts will have in this state, I am not now prepared to say. It was unfortunate to say the least."

TEMPLE THEATER

THE SEASON'S OPENING.

It Will Occur Next Monday Matinee With an All Star Bill.

The Temple theater vaudeville season opens next Monday matinee with an all star big city show. The management has been hard at work for the past several weeks and spared no money to get the best show ever brought to this city for the opening. The management secured Wrinklers Seven Military dancers, a recent importation and which is vaudeville's latest novelty, as the headline attraction. The act created a furore at the Majestic theater, Chicago, several weeks ago, the critics declaring it the best dancing act ever brought to this country. The act carries its own musical director. Rozell's Imperial Minstrels a company of eighteen singers, dancers and comedians together with a large band and orchestra and a carload of special scenery and electrical effects is an act that has earned its title "Vaudeville's greatest musical offering." There will be a parade at noon Monday and a free band concert in front of the theater before each performance. Herbert and Langweed Sisters will appear in an up-to-date singing and dancing offering what is said to be a distinct novelty. The University Four, which is America's foremost quartette, are sure to please. The Four Harmony Kings have a musical offering extraordinary and the Waldo Brothers the Roman gladiators, are exponents of physical culture. The Temple motion pictures this season will change four times a week, and the Temple orchestra, which has been enlarged, will prove to be one of the good things the mangement has in store for the patrons this season.

CURES AT YOUR OWN PRICE—Every person who calls on me before September 1 will not only receive a careful and thorough examination FREE OF CHARGE, but absolutely no fee will be charged during that time other than you yourself are willing to pay.

SCIENTIFIC AND THOROUGH EXAMINATION—I have made it a point never to treat any case until I had made a careful and thorough examination and definitely located the cause of the trouble. This takes time, care and a complete and scientific knowledge of the parts affected, both in health and in disease. The human body is a most complicated piece of mechanism. In fact, so complicated that it is impossible for any one person to thoroughly understand its normal, or healthy condition. How much more impossible, then, would it be to understand all the diseased condition that may arise?

Knowing as I do the absolute futility of attempting to successfully treat every disease, I have limited my study to PELVIC, CHRONIC AND NERVOUS DISEASES, and my many years of experience in their treatment have enabled me to perfect methods which will positively and permanently restore to perfect health nearly all these conditions in which the ordinary methods have failed.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN and nearly all nervous diseases are the direct result of CHRONIC or imperfectly treated PELVIC DISEASES. By my special methods in the treatment of these diseases I not only remove every trace of the disease itself, but am able to restore to a normal and healthy condition the broken-down and devitalized nervous system.

VARICOCELE, STRICTURE, RUPTURE, PILES, FISTULA, ETC., cured without knife and without detention from business.

BLOOD POISON—I use only the most advanced methods in the treatment of Blood Poison and kindred diseases.

ECZEMA and other skin diseases quickly cured.

PROSTATIC ENLARGEMENT—This may result from a number of causes. The constant jarring and vibration of trains and trolley cars are a very potent cause. Bicycle riding and the use of riding implements on the farm are factors in producing this disease. In fact, the causes are so many and varied that fully 75 per cent. of all adults are afflicted to a greater or less extent by this disease. The disease is so little understood, and as one of the principal symptoms is a pain in the back, it is usually called kidney trouble and treated with local applications or sedatives which can do no possible good whatever. I reduce the enlargement and have been able to cure about 90 per cent. of all cases.

VETS TO MEET AT THE FALLS

Annual Banquet of Nickel Plate Men Takes Place There.

GATHERING ON CANADIAN SIDE

Clifton Hotel Selected as Headquarters for the Day.

The fifth annual banquet and convention of the Nickel Plate Veterans' association will be held in Niagara Falls, Ontario, next Saturday, and the Clifton hotel, the best in the city, will be association headquarters for the day. The association now has 312 members and advance notices to the secretary from 260 of them assures him that each will be in attendance at the banquet. The others would attend were it possible to get away from work. Business and the banquet will, of course, consume the greater part of the day, and but little attention has been given to "side line" entertainments. An invitation from the managers to take a ride over the Falls Gorge line has been accepted, however, and this will probably take place immediately before the opening of the business session. Every member of the association from this division who can be spared from duty will go to Niagara Falls on a special train running as a second No. 4, at 8:05 o'clock Friday evening, and reaching the falls the following morning at about 7 o'clock. The return trip will be made on a special train, which will leave the falls at 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. Two years ago, when the Vets held their annual meeting in Fort Wayne, the membership was only 158. That meeting was the best ever held up to that time and gave added interest and impetus to the membership campaign then being conducted. It is not necessary now to solicit members. Nearly all the eligible material is already in the association and there are many now anxiously looking forward to the time when they have been in the service twenty-five years and are eligible to membership. Each of the general officers is a "vet," and has been enrolled, and none take greater interest in the annual meetings and the welfare of the society than do President W. H. Canniff, General Manager A. W. Johnstone, Motive Power Superintendent E. A. Miller and the other high officials, and all will be present next Saturday. Chicago has invited the association to hold the 1912 convention and banquet in that city, and it is believed the invitation will be accepted.

FARMERS' EXCURSION.

G. R. & I. Carries 300 Hoosiers Into Michigan.

The annual excursion from Richmond and the stations north as far and including Fort Wayne, over the G. R. & I. road, is on today and it attracted the usual number, chiefly farmers. The train came into Fort Wayne with 240 passengers and received sixty more here. Some time in September the G. R. & I. will have an excursion starting from this city and taking on passengers at the stations south of and including Kalamazoo, which will probably be larger than the one today.

W. H. Lenz Receives Good Position on Wabash.

William H. Lenz left this morning for Peru to assume the duties of chief clerk to General Foreman M. Elsner, succeeding C. E. Blosser, transferred to a similar position at Montpelier, Ohio. Mr. Lenz is succeeded as shop clerk at the Wabash by Earl Henschen, formerly with the Adams Express company. Mr. Lenz went to the Wabash from the Electric works a year or two ago and has made good, as proven by the several promotions that he received during his term of service.

WABASH ROAD BLOCKED.

Derailed Freight Cars Cause Delay to Passenger Train.

Two cars in freight train 62, on the Wabash, got off the rails and thrown around crosswise, blocking the road in the vicinity of Lafayette, Ind., several hours. All passenger trains due at that point at the time were delayed and No. 2, due here at 5:30 o'clock this morning, was over three hours late when it reached the city, being held all that time back of the scene of the wreck. Nobody was injured.

For a number of years before going east he was connected with the police department of the western division of the system before and after serving a term as deputy sheriff of Allen county. He has many friends here and is being warmly greeted on all sides.

TEXTILE WORKERS' SOCIAL.

The textile workers of the Wayne Knitting mills anticipate much pleasure for themselves and friends out of the social they have planned for tomorrow evening at Swinney park. The sale of upwards of 3,000 tickets for the refreshment end of the entertainment gives assurance of a crowd and the engagement of the Electro-Technic band is assurance of an enjoyable musical program. The textile workers were unable to have an excursion to the lakes this year and the social tomorrow evening is to be given instead.

Half of the population of Leipsic, Ohio, is taking an outing today, the affair being engineered by the industrial association of that city. Two eleven coach trains, in charge of Conductors John Hill and Ed Hindel, went down to Leipsic over the Nickel Plate last night to take the outing party to Cedar Point. Traveling Passenger Agent Frank P. Parnin and Trainmaster Harry Williams are with the party.

Mr. Winkler is assistant baggagemaster at the Pennsylvania depot. He is a native of Germany and this is his first visit back there in twenty-five years.

Machinist E. E. Tierney, of the Pennsylvania round house, had the index finger of his right hand lacerated this morning when the digit was caught in a drill press he was operating. He will be unable to work for several days as a result of the accident.

MARINES GOING WEST.

Two special cars on the second section of westbound Pennsylvania train No. 23 this morning carried a lot of marines, who are going to the Pacific coast. Regular travel was also heavy, necessitating the second section of the train.

HAD ANKLE SPRAINED.

Brakeman E. Bailey, of the Pennsylvania, went to St. Joseph's hospital this morning with a badly sprined ankle. The accident was the result of stepping upon some round article and turning his foot when he alighted from his caboose.

An excursion party from Cincinnati to Cedar Point had an unpleasant experience on the Big Four road Sunday. They left Cincinnati at 6 o'clock in the morning and reached Sandusky at 4:30 in the afternoon, just in time for the start homeward. They were given an opportunity to look across the lake to Cedar Point, but did not go there. The excursion train was held up en route to Sandusky by a freight wreck.

After hugging the ends of the ties on a Nickel Plate bridge at Vermillion, Ohio, until the engine and three of the cars had passed him, Ziemant Putriski, aged twelve, was struck and killed by the journal boxes of a car. Had he maintained the position he first assumed until the train had passed the lad would not have been killed or even injured. His companion succeeded in crossing the bridge before the train reached him.

NOT A GOOD INVESTMENT.

Would Not Sue For Damages For Child Hurt by Car.

A SMALL girl from the far west who is visiting in Cleveland attempted the other day the difficult problem of dodging two automobiles and a street car while crossing the street. It was too much for her. The street car fender bowled her over.

She was hurried back to the home of her friends, which was close by, where a hastily summoned doctor declared she wasn't hurt in any way. With this assurance the child's mother resumed her journey downtown.

Shortly after the mother's departure the street railway's medical man appeared to see the little girl. He was told that a doctor had already attended her, but he was anxious to see her himself. And just then she appeared in the hall.

"And so you were not hurt?" he said in his friendliest way.

"No," replied the ten-year-old, "I wasn't really hurt. It was mostly the shock. Mamma says I have a nervous temperature."

"I see," said the smiling doctor. "And so you don't think your mamma has any intention of suing the railway company?"

"No," the child gravely replied; "I don't think she has. I heard her say she didn't believe in throwing her children under street cars for an investment."

And the smiling doctor had nothing more to say.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Protecting the Volunteers.

In the course of an after dinner speech not long ago Dr. Simon Flexner of the Rockefeller Institute For Medical Research recalled a once familiar story of the younger Pitt, which may bear retelling for the present generation. The solemn and stiff necked statesman had his moments of droll humor.

When England was threatened by a French invasion in 1802 there were a great many volunteer soldiers enlisted. But the articles of enlistment guarded these volunteers very carefully against too much fighting.

They were not to take the field "except in case of actual invasion." They were not to be put on war rations "except in case of actual invasion." They were not to be drilled hard "except in case of actual invasion."

When Pitt read these articles he frowned. Finally, on toward the end of the document, he came to a p

WOMEN'S WOES

Fort Wayne Women Are Finding Relief at Last

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Sick kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and much suffering is saved. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. H. E. Smeader, 2054 Nelson street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "I do not know what I would have done were it not for Doan's Kidney Pills. I suffered intensely from backache and I had dizzy spells and pains in my head. Reading of people in Fort Wayne who had taken Doan's Kidney Pills with benefit, I was led to try this remedy. I am glad to say that the results were satisfactory. Since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me, I have induced many other people to use them and in every instance the results have been of the best."

OATS HAS GONE UP TWO CENTS

Went to 38 Cents Tuesday Forenoon—Other Grain Prices Stationary.

THE LOCAL MARKETS

Oats took a jump on the local markets today, advancing from 36c to 38c. This is the highest price it has been for a month. On July 10 it was 42c and on July 20, the quotation was 41c. After that it gradually fell to 36c, where it had been for some days. Other grain prices remain unchanged, wheat being 84c, rye and barley 65c, and corn ranging from 62c to 64c.

Hay quotations show no change, being $15.00@20.00 a ton. The lower price is the quotation for clover and the higher for timothy. Mixed hay runs between these two. Considerable hay came in Tuesday. Only five loads were weighed at the city scales Monday. The quotations there Tuesday were $15.00@20.00 for hay, 36@42c for oats, and 64@68c for corn.

The Barr street market Tuesday brought out another big crowd of buyers and sellers. As usual fruit was abundant. There is an immense crop this year of everything. Home grown peaches sold for $1.50@1.75 a bushel, plums for $1.10 and up, and apples for 40@50c. Potatoes sold for $1.40@1.50.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Aug. 29.—Small gains were made by a majority of the active stocks in the opening trading today. The Harriman issues and St. Paul were the only prominent shares which sold below yesterday's close. Canadian Pacific and Lehigh Valley gained ⅝ point.

A futile effort was made to force renewed liquidation by attacking prices soon after the opening, but when the bears discovered they were apparently the only sellers, they turned about face and covered freely. Northern Pacific mounted to 2 points above yesterday's closing, Canadian Pacific 1¾, Great Northern preferred 1⅝, Rock Island preferred 1½ and St. Paul, Atchison and Lehigh Valley 1 point. Union Pacific and United States Steel rallied a point from their low figures.

A steady demand for stocks imparted strength to the market during the second hour and yesterday's gains were increased. Selling orders were scattering and it was apparent that for the time at least, liquidation had run its course. Statements by the heads of large western railroads that they did not contemplate reduction of working forces helped to improve sentiment, as did the favorable July reports of Canadian Pacific, Erie, Lehigh Valley and several other roads. Fractional recessions from the earlier level were made during the second hour, with business dwindling steadily as prices fell away. Bonds were steady.

Some large selling orders were distributed and the market fell rapidly to about a level with yesterday's closing prices. Offerings then ceased and speculation became lifeless.

The market closed easy. Active selling was resumed in the last hour and the whole list broke sharply. Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Reading, United States Steel, St. Paul, Canadian Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, and American Smelting fell 1 to 1½ points below yesterday's closing. Bear operators put out extensive port lines and there was some liquidation by holders of long stocks who were disappointed at the action of the market after its early show of strength.

W. C. T. U. MAKES APPEAL FOR AID

Wants Help in Its Crusade for Liquor Law Enforcement.

SENDS OUT LETTERS

Seeking to enlist the active aid of all who are in sympathy with the movement, the Fort Wayne Women's Christian Temperance union is sending out hundreds of circular letters in which an appeal is made not only for financial contributions to carry on the crusade for a closer enforcement of the liquor laws, but for an organization of citizens powerful enough to be effective in the work.

"There are, by law," the letter says, "places and times where and when liquor can be sold. We shall respect the rights of all who conform to the law. Persecution we will not countenance, but prosecute we will all those who willingly or defiantly disregard the law." It is stated that a fund from $5,000 to $10,000 is needed to make the crusade effective, and contributors are asked to make remittances to Mrs. Louisa M. Thiebolt, 925 Erie street.

Twelve Questions Asked.

Enclosed in the letter is a blank containing twelve questions to which answers are requested. These questions are:

1—Are you in favor of inaugurating a campaign to secure an enforcement of the liquor laws, along the line suggested in the circular sent to you with these interrogatories?

2—Are you willing to be known as one of 300 persons in favor of bringing about a legal compliance with the law in reference to the selling of liquor, and the manner in which such business should be conducted?

3—Do you desire this communication to be considered as strictly confidential and private?

4—Are you willing to be one of at least ten responsible citizens to sign remonstrances against the granting of licenses, or to secure the revocation of improperly granted licenses; you are not to be asked to sign more than five such bonds and petitions?

5—Are you willing to report, confidentially to the committee of the W. C. T. U. on enforcement of law, Mrs. Louisa M. Thiebolt, 925 Erie street, or to the attorney employed by the W. C. T. U. of the breaches of the liquor law that comes within your observation?

6—Are you willing to take supervision of a small part of the city, so as to observe and ascertain what breaches of the law are being committed, and confidentially report the same to the organization or its attorney?

7—If you answer the last question with "Yes," state what portion of the city it would be most convenient for you to supervise.

8—How much money will you pay in cash towards the expenses of this campaign?

9—How much money will you pay on the first of every month towards the prosecution of this campaign for the period of one year?

10—How long do you think this campaign ought to continue?

11—Who, in your opinion, will help us; give us the names of at least five persons most likely to do so?

TORTURED FOR FIFTEEN YEARS

by a cure-defying stomach trouble that baffled doctors, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer." "Whatever I ate distressed me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. Its surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c at all druggists.

The Triple Wedding Scheduled for Robison Park's Farewell Sunday Declared Off.

The triple wedding which was to have been a feature of Robison park's farewell Sunday has been declared off. Two of the brides want a religious ceremony. Manager Williams insists upon a civil marriage, as he does not wish to give the affair any religious aspect. One groom-to-be has developed advanced stage-fright. If the willing bride and one of the willing grooms could be paired off, one wedding, at least, could take place. So the $25.00 in gold offered by Manager Williams to each of three couples is still waiting. Unless new couples come forward the wedding will not take place. The farewell Sunday, however, will have Electro-Technic band concerts, afternoon and evening, and a balloon ascension and parachute drop in the afternoon.

MAIL ORDER HOUSES PAY LAVISH SALARIES.

News Leaks Out That Some Mail Order Employes Draw $10,000 to $25,000 a Year.

There is practically no limit to the salary that the average mail order concern is willing to pay clever writers of advertisements, catalogues and letters. Men of marked ability along these lines can usually name their own terms. One hundred dollars a week is regarded as only a fair salary for a good mail order writer. Many make $200 per week and some get even $500 a week.

These facts were made public at a recent investigation wherein a well-known catalogue house was made defendant on the charge of fraudulent use of the United States mails. This concern had been telling the public how, by dealing direct with the consumer, they could sell at half-price. The "explanation" was, that since they did not sell through dealers, their selling expense was immensely cut down. Then the question came up as to what their expense was in selling and it developed that they were spending huge amounts not only for paper, stationery, printing and advertising (a single mail order advertisement inserted once in one paper sometimes costs $5,000,) but for experts who are able to write "come on," as they call it, to bring in trade.

Not long ago a manufacturer who had been selling his product by mail came to the conclusion that he would change over to the dealer plan of selling and cut out the mail order end. This he did. As a mail order concern he had been advertising his goods at "one-half the dealer's price." But, strangely enough, he is now selling the identical, same product through dealers at the SAME PRICE AS HE SOLD IT BY MAIL.

The manufacturer still makes his profit, yet there has been no advance over the original mail order price.

How does that happen? Let some $25,000-a-year expert mail order advertisement writer "explain" it.

SUNDAY

GERMAN AMERICAN TRUST CO.

One Monday morning a little girl carried some very fine berries to her pastor.

He thanked her profusely, then mindful of his calling, said: "I hope, my dear, that you didn't pick these on Sunday."

"No," she answered, "but they grew on Sunday."

This bank closes on Sunday, but interest, like the berries, goes on growing just the same on that day as on any other.

Thus far we have had no one object, neither has anyone offered to return as tainted money interest earned on Sunday.

4 per cent interest paid on deposits, Sundays included.

EUROPE'S TOO GAY FOR WORK.

At Least the Creator of Potash and Perlmutter Finds it So.

(New York Sun.)

"It's hard lines for the fellow who goes abroad to write a book," writes Montague Glass, creator of Potash and Perlmutter, from Lucerne.

Mr. Glass has been finding this out from experience, for he went abroad to write a new book on Jewish life, to be published this fall; but so far the book has not made much progress. Europe's fun and troubles have proved too attractive.

"Tuesday I broke a window on the Swiss federal railway," he writes, "a large window with brass fittings. I took it next with a suitcase, so to speak, and the train was held ten minutes while the conductor and two porters tried to make me settle."

The adventure became lively when the porters at length tried to put off his baggage, but were discouraged, so he says, by cries of "Shame!" from the other passengers. A compromise was reached by Mr. Glass giving the railroad officials a visiting card.

"It was a perfectly good visiting card," says he, "and bore the name of a friend in the United States."
